DISSENSION IN MOSCOW

Take Advantage of Local Trouble to Bring Bessarabian Question to Fore

(By United Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Europe today was pondering the surface indications of menacing intrigue and hatred which erupted at Bucharest during the week end, in the form of fantastic reports of revolution in Soviet Russia.

Observers conversant with Balkan politics and the peculiar methods of Balkan statesmen intimated that the Bucharest reports, which admittedly emanated from the Rumanian government, might have represented the beginning of a Rumanian effort to compel immediate settlement of the Bessarabian question, through the circulation of rumors.

Rumania's Chances Dwindle

It was explained that, owing to recent developments in the general political situation, Rumania's chances for obtaining soviet recognition of her claim to Bessarabia through intervention of the western powers had dwindled. Hence, it was possible that Rumania sought first to show Russia that she could make trouble and, second, to attract the world's fading attention to Bessarabia.

The current internal dissension in Moscow perhaps suggested that now was the opportune time to launch the rumors which, despite denials, sounded plausible or at least possible, outside Russia. Bucharest may be considered to have been the center of dissemination of the reports. Warsaw also was a fairly prolific source, but it appears that the Warsaw reports were picked up from Bucharest. Co-operation between Warsaw and Bucharest in the instance probably did not exist.

Weakness Develops in Russia

Socialists here told the United Press that reports from capitals bordering Russia were overdrawn, but that, nevertheless, weakness was developing in the Soviet structure. Internal dissension must have that effect, according to the Socialists, while the Socialist newspapers "Vorwaerts" said that postponement of the Soviet congress until 1927 was "according to western standards a violation of the constitution."

The constitution, the paper explained, provided for annual meetings of the congress, the last one having convened in 1925.

RODRIGUEZ WILL FREE U. S. SAILOR

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 10.—After a year in the Mexican federal prison, the 19-year-old U. S. navy man, is about to become a free man, his record cleared by a pardon, according to advices received by naval authorities here from the Mexican officials.

Gordon, who has been granted considerable freedom in Tia Juana as a prisoner-trustee, was summoned to the Tia Juana municipal palace at 10 a. m., today, presumably to receive the pardon.

Mayor Federico Palacios told newspapermen, however, that he had just talked by long-distance telephone with Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez, in Mexicali, and that the pardon was not ready. He expected to hear at the same hour tomorrow from the governor, and expressed hope that the pardon could be issued at that time.

FRESNO, Aug. 10.—Hundreds of persons who gathered in front of the federal building here today to buy liquor stills at auction prices were disappointed when they discovered that the stills were those that had been confiscated by prohibition agents and had been broken so they could not be used again. Sydney J. Shannon, U. S. marshal, conducted the auction, and the majority of bidders were junk dealers.

MAN IS SHOT IN GUN BATTLE ON COOGAN'S LAWN

Watchman Seriously Hurt In Duel with Former Chauffeur for Boy

(By United Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—A gun duel was fought on the lawn of Jackie Coogan's home, early today, resulting in the serious wounding of Joe Block, 42, night watchman.

Block's assailant, according to police, was Don McRae, former chauffeur for the boy film star. He fled after the shooting.

McRae and Block, who was night watchman for homes in the vicinity of the Coogan residence, were old enemies, police said. McRae had been drinking and started a quarrel, which was climaxed by a brisk exchange of shots that aroused the Coogan family.

Jackie and his parents were in the upper part of the house during the duel. According to police, McRae went to the Coogan home under the influence of liquor and abused members of the household. Block undertook to eject the former chauffeur and the latter drew his gun. Several shots were fired, two taking effect. One struck Block in the side and the second bullet hit him in the thigh.

A. L. Burnstein, manager of Jackie Coogan, said McRae had threatened him also, while he was visiting at the Coogan home, late last night.

Police discounted the theory that McRae had designs on the life of the young film star.

MINE RESCUERS' EFFORTS BALKED

SALEM, Ky., Aug. 10.—With the stubborn earth defying every effort of modern science, company officials began this morning to drill the fifth shaft to reach five men imprisoned for nearly 100 hours in the American Fluorspar and Zinc company's mine here.

When the fourth rescue shaft, pushed forward by hours of grueling labor, was within a few feet of the men, a strata of impenetrable rock was encountered, which made further progress impossible.

Other rescue attempts have been frustrated by the seepage of water from an underground lake. Another disastrous impediment was the breakage of essential machinery. A party sent to Memphis for repair parts had not returned this morning.

Man Slays Wife And Shoots Self

NAPA, Calif., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Mary Webb, 36, was dead, and her husband, Charles, was believed to be dead today, as the result of a domestic tragedy in which the husband first killed his wife and then shot himself, according to police. The tragedy was discovered yesterday, when Mary Bluma, 10, daughter of neighbors, visited the Webb home.

FOUR STATES GO TO POLLS IN PRIMARIES

Nominating Elections Are Being Held in Arkansas, Ohio, Nebraska, Alabama

WET AND DRY ISSUE UP

Klan Strife Also Injected Into Sectional Balloting; Pomerene Seeking Office

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Two Democratic presidential possibilities, prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan, were made the subject of sectional balloting in three of the four state primaries being held today.

Gov. Vic Donahey and former Senator Allee Pomerene are running side by side for Democratic nominations in Ohio. Their names are being mentioned prominently with many other Democrats as prospective 1928 possibilities.

Donahey, a dry, whose record has been published by the Anti-Saloon league, is seeking the nomination for governor of the state which rivals Virginia for the title of "Mother of Presidents," where he has already had two terms.

Pomerene, a wet, who was defeated for the senate several years ago because of opposition of labor, is seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination against Judge Florence Allen, dry, in a closely watched contest. The winner is expected to oppose Senator Willis, Republican champion of the Anti-Saloon league, in November, as Willis' nomination over several contestants is looked upon here as a certainty.

The other primaries of the day, Alabama, Arkansas and Nebraska, bear less national significance.

In Alabama, Senator Oscar Underwood retired and left half a dozen candidates to fight it out for the Democratic nomination to his seat.

Al Smith becomes issue. The prospective presidential candidacy of Gov. Al Smith, of New York, has been made a subject of campaign debate. Bibb Graves, gubernatorial candidate, announced his opposition to Smith.

L. B. Musgrave, who ran a close race with Underwood in the last election, is endorsed by some Klan leaders for the post. "Some of the other candidates, however, claim Klan support."

In Arkansas, Senator Caraway is expected to lead the Democratic nomination, equivalent to re-election. The Anti-Saloon league issue, however, is being fought out in the gubernatorial race. Governor Terrell, seeking re-nomination with Anti-Saloon league support, is opposed by Judge Martineau. Martineau is not a wet, but relies for his following upon dry opposition to the league candidate.

The Nebraska election involves local congressional races of lesser national significance.

MRS. FERGUSON AND MOODY TO WAR AT POLLS

Texas Woman Governor to Enter Run-off Primary On August 28

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 10.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Dan Moody, young attorney general, were ready today to go down the line from the "Red river to the Rio Grande," in a second fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination of the Lone Star state.

Officially sanctioned by the Democratic state executive committee, meeting in a stormy session here yesterday, Moody and Mrs. Ferguson attempted to introduce a petition renewed activities in the Ferguson-Moody contest originated yesterday, when the Ferguson constituency challenged the right of Moody's candidacy, on grounds that the red-haired attorney had violated state election laws in the acceptance of campaign funds from legislative supporters.

Counsel for Mrs. Ferguson attempted to introduce a petition disqualifying Moody on these claims, but the committee refused to consider the document, later characterized by Moody as presented "for a sinister political purpose."

PARLIAMENT REDS CAUSE DISORDER

VERSAILLES, Aug. 10.—Disorder, which probably has no precedent in French parliamentary history, occurred this evening in the national assembly, when the Communist assemblymen joined in singing "Carmagnole," the revolutionary song. The disturbance came during a violent speech by the Communist deputy, Doriot. Suddenly his fellow Reds arose, singing. The president of the assembly put his hands on his head, signifying that the session was suspended.

TIGER TALKS ON WRITING TO COOLIDGE

Clemenceau Is Urged by Many in France to Appeal to U. S. on Debts

CHANGE IN SENTIMENT

Noted Frenchman Asserts Attitude of Americans Toward Paris Is Shifting

(By A. L. BRADFORD)

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Copyright, 1926, by United Press

ST. VINCENT SUR JARD, France, Aug. 10.—An old man, turning 85 years, sat in the parlor of his shanty-like, one-story abode at the seaside and told me why he came out of retirement, which had engulfed him since he won the war for France, to write a sensational letter regarding war debts to President Coolidge.

The man was Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France."

His story was simple, compared with the intrigues and deliberation which surround most documents of such importance.

"I'll tell you the truth about that letter," he said.

Americans Love France

"I know the Americans. If ever there were a people that loved France, it was the American people. They make mistakes like all of us, but you have done such splendid things that we could only give America that final French praise—that they are such chic people.

"But it has been so evident recently that this sentiment was changing that I decided to write the letter three or four days ago, because scores of people appealed to me to do so. Throughout this year, I have seen some of my American friends, but also I recently have received scores and scores of letters asking me to do something.

"Without the usual criticism or threats, these writers who appealed to me, said they realized that I definitely had retired from politics, but that I should break my silence for once.

Tiger Decides to Write

"So I decided to write the letter. I did not want to make it political or a financial argument. I wanted to separate the question from banks. I have nothing against the bankers, but their commission is a question of business just as measurement is a question for the trade of tailors.

"I could have said many other things, but I wanted to say only what I did say. I was frank also toward England and how she played Germany against France. Now it is the same thing regarding debts. We hear that America is coming to be greatly disliked in England and now it is France. That is bad."

Clemenceau emphasized that he expected no reply to his letter and that it was not designed to bring a reply. Questioned regarding his own ideas for solving the debt problems, he said:

"I won't say what thoughts I have. I have my ideas, but for me to announce them would be to put myself before the government."

Clemenceau explained that his letter did not signify that he was returning to public life, although he said he could not say that he might not have some more comment on war debts. He took me out of the house to show me how he had erected a dike to keep the sea from his flower garden.

"The sea is wonderful during a storm," he said, as we gazed at the lapping waves and, with the grin of the war-time "Tiger," Clemenceau made it plain that he intended me to appreciate the honor he accorded in taking me through his garden, where there seemed to be every kind of a flower from roses to daisies, thrown together in an artistic disarray.

As we parted, Clemenceau saw the local priest walking up the road.

"Here comes the cure to try to convert me; he won't succeed," said the Tiger, and that was his goodbye.

5 Coast Guard Cutters Win Battle Prize

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 10.—Coast guard boats today captured an alleged rum running schooner off Anastasia light, after a severe battle, and are taking the crew to St. Augustine, according to meager information received at the coast guard base at Fort Lauderdale. There were five cutters in the attack, coast guard officials say. The schooner is believed to be the Hazel E. Herman, of British registry.

It was reported three men had been killed and one dangerously wounded. Boat-swain T. L. Cokely, commander of patrol boat No. 202 and Captain George Gay are reported missing, after making an air trip to locate the Hazel E. Herman. The captain of the Herman was seriously wounded.

PREACHER NOT WORRIED OVER MURDER CHARGE

Philip Goodwin Intimates He Will Throw Blame On Missing Cowboy

Confident that he will be acquitted of the charge of murdering J. J. Patterson, Los Angeles bond broker, whose body was found in Santa Ana canyon on March 22 by a Mexican boy, the Rev. Philip Goodwin, of Los Angeles, today was in the Orange county jail, having been brought back from New York by Orange County Jailer Orin Moncrief and Deputy Sheriff Davidson, of Los Angeles county. Goodwin was arrested in a vaudeville actors' club in New York about three weeks ago on a warrant signed by the brother of the slain bond broker.

Goodwin was in a jovial mood, stating that he preferred to be in jail in California than on the stage in New York. He intimated that his defense would center around the acts of Albert Gaines, alias Abe Dewey, also sought on a charge of murdering Patterson. He did not actually say that he would attempt to prove an alibi and throw the blame on the missing Utah cowboy, but reporters who talked to him gained that impression.

Moncrief said that Goodwin had admitted to him that he, Goodwin, had come into possession of some $19,000 in oil bonds, the property of Patterson, and that through the sale of the securities he had made $400 profit.

The prisoner said that he had heard from Dewey but once since he disappeared from Los Angeles about the third week in March of this year. He believed that Patterson was killed about March 13.

When Goodwin arrived in Fullerton, he told reporters that he knew the city well, as he had lived there for several months about two years ago. The party of officers and the prisoner took dinner in Fullerton and then hurried to Santa Ana. Goodwin's preliminary hearing has been set by Justice Kenneth Morrison for next Wednesday.

Goodwin indicated that he would rely largely upon his diary in establishing his innocence of the crime.

FULL PROBE OF SCANDAL IS DEMANDED

Separate Inquiry on Rum Running and Orgies Requested in Los Angeles

AIMEE'S CASE AGAIN

Reported Destruction of Grocery Lists Bearing Handwriting Causes Stir

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—The Los Angeles county grand jury, after a day of deliberation, has decided to vote on the question of ousting the juror alleged to have destroyed valuable evidence in the Aimee Semple McPherson investigation. It was learned late today. The jurors, it was reported, favored recommending to Superior Judge Arthur Keetch that the accused member be summarily barred. The accused juror failed to produce the missing grocery lists found in the Carmel cottage occupied by Kenneth G. Ormiston, and "Miss X," it was learned.

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Plans to empanel a special grand jury to investigate rum running and liquor scandals in Los Angeles county were being considered today by authorities.

Prominent dry leaders conferred with District Attorney Asa Keyes, following revelations of asserted liquor orgies in county convict camps, and requested that an independent jury be formed to probe conditions.

The district attorney agreed the situation required drastic action, and let it be known that his office was considering creation of the special inquisitorial body.

Dry Leaders Confer

Prohibition leaders, who discussed the county's crime problems with Keyes, included Dr. Samuel Montgomery, local head of the Anti-Saloon league; Mrs. L. C. Miller, secretary of the W. C. T. U. here, and Pearl Grate, of the law enforcement committee of the Salvation Army.

They charged also that the present grand jury was motivated by politics.

The special grand jury also would be asked to probe the activities of hi-jackers and gunmen, including the recent shooting of two men at the St. Regis hotel, outcome of the liquor feud in this county.

The Aimee Semple McPherson kidnapping mystery may be reviewed by a new grand jury, it appeared today, following investigation of the alleged destruction of important evidence by one of the jurors.

If charges made against the accused juror are sustained, it is probable, according to reports at the district attorney's office, that the present grand jury may be dismissed.

Grocery Lists Missing

The missing evidence consists of two grocery lists in a woman's handwriting, found in the cottage at Carmel, occupied in May by "Miss X" and Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angelus temple radio man.

The suspected juror was ordered to produce the original grocery slips at today's session of the grand jury. Investigators declare, however, the evidence can never be recovered.

Less of the grocery slips will not interfere with a possible solution of the McPherson case, according to district attorney investigators, as photostatic copies were made before the evidence disappeared.

The handwriting, it is known, has been compared with that of Mrs. McPherson, but authorities have refused to divulge their findings.

Officials are chiefly concerned over the alleged corruption by one of the jurors and drastic action was expected in event the charges are sustained.

DEMPSEY FIGHT PROSPECTS ARE DEALT SETBACK

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Prospects of a Dempsey-Tunney world heavy-weight boxing match in New York September 15 were dealt a severe blow by the state license committee today, when the committee deferred action on Jack Dempsey's application for a license permitting him to fight in New York.

Gene Tunney, Dempsey's challenger, who applied for a license today at the same time as the champion, was granted his license.

The committee deferred decision on Dempsey's application "pending his compliance with the rules and regulations of the New York athletic commission."

The rule particularly referred to was quoted by the committee as follows: "A boxer holding the championship title must defend the same within a period of six months after winning or defending the title in a bona fide fight through a decision."

William Muldoon, senior member of the athletic commission, told Tex Rickard that the committee's action did not mean that the projected bout could not be held. He held an entirely opposing view and said that Dempsey could be granted a license on the strength of his contract to fight Tunney.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 10.—Permits for three steel rigs were granted today to the Petroleum Securities corporation, a Doheny company. The derricks will all be located in the newly opened district, a west of town. The erection of the three rigs will bring the total number in the section to over 30.

Workers Destroy Freedom, Claims Judge In London

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Justice McCardie, in sentencing two Baddesley colliery employees to two months' imprisonment for intimidation, at the Birmingham Assizes, said the prisoners' conduct was opposed to every instinct of citizenship, fair play and social order. Many working men were now struggling to destroy the freedom they had gained. They were seeking to impose independent judgment and its expression by criminal acts and were trying to deprive their fellows of the right to work. It was his duty to maintain the freedom of the working man to work.

Move Is Started To Protect Snake

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—A movement to protect harmless serpents and other forms of innocuous reptiles has been launched here through the organization of the Herpetological Society of California.

"The much-maligned snake finally is coming in for the recognition as a useful animal, to which it long has been entitled.

"If everybody realized the economic value of reptiles as destroyers of insects and rodent pests, snakes no longer would be persecuted as they always have been. Anybody that kills a harmless snake kills a friend and all California reptiles, except the rattler, are harmless," Albert E. Colburn, one of the organizers, declared.

GERMANY PUTS 24 NUMBERS ON CLOCK

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Five o'clock tea probably will pass out of existence in Germany. There'll be teas, but they will be called 17 o'clock affairs.

The German national railways and the post office department, following the lead of several European countries, have decided to adopt the 24-hour time system, beginning next May. Clocks in railway stations and post offices will receive an extra circle of numerals so that 5 p. m. will be 17 and midnight, 24 o'clock.

The system may be extended generally. The German air service already operates on 24-hour time and reports that it eliminates confusion and simplifies printing of time tables.

Inspection Trip Made Over Coast Air Mail Route

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Blazing a trail for the Pacific airmail service, to be inaugurated soon, a new Ryan M-1 monoplane left here at 11:15 a. m. today.

Aim of the preliminary flight is to inspect landing fields and beacon lights between here and Seattle. Six of the speedy M-1 ships will be used in the mail service, according to Vern C. Gorst, president of the Pacific Air Transport company, holding the contract.

The present schedule calls for daily departure of the mail planes from Los Angeles at 12:45 a. m., reaching Seattle the same evening. The southland bound schedule will follow the same time.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 10.—Special mine-sweeping equipment, such as was used in war-time in the North Sea, has been imported by residents in the vicinity of Williams lake, where strange marine monsters with sheep heads have been seen on a number of occasions. In the Okanagan lakes, similar creatures have been seen, but Williams lake is only one mile wide by six miles long, and one day's sweeping operation is expected to bring to the surface all big fish in the lake, including the 20-foot monster that has frightened all swimmers from the water.

Tenement Folk Flock to Parks

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Parks are necessities as real as food to the tenement folk of New York. In contrast with their purely decorative features in many smaller cities, this is due to the plans under which the old portion of the city was built. Large areas since have become tenements, with as many as a dozen persons living in two or three rooms, with little light and inadequate air, which makes summer's heat almost unbearable.

Throughout most of the year signs reading "Keep off the grass" are posted on all green spots. However, extremely hot weather is sufficient cause for the removal of restrictions and extra police are spending the night on the grass, spending the night on the grass.

Even on nights which are not considered hot enough for his liberty, families assemble in the parks to wait for the pavements and houses to cool before retiring.

This King Didn't Have Much to Say

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—In a time when a number of the world's statesmen are known for brevity of speech, it is recalled that King Frederick Wilhelm III, of Prussia, rarely used more than one word for questions and answers.

Taking the cure at Bad Teplitz, the sovereign heard of a Hungarian country squire who was noted for his terseness.

"Introduce," the king ordered his adjutant. The squire and the king met on the promenade.

"Bathing?" asked the king.

"Drinking."

"Officer?"

"Squire."

"So?"

"Detective?" the squire inquired suspiciously.

"King."

"Congratulations!"

Elect J. C. METZGAR Justice of the Peace

A STATEMENT BY THE METZGAR FOR JUSTICE VOLUNTEER CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Metzgar pledged himself in his announcement of his candidacy as follows: "Because I believe that an inflexible schedule for violations of the traffic law is impracticable and unjust I will, if elected, judge each and every case separately on its merits and on evidence submitted."

We believe that Mr. Metzgar is wonderfully well equipped for the office for these reasons:

He has pledged himself to the enforcement of all laws, honestly, fearlessly and without favor or prejudice.

He is firmly determined to drive the CRIMINALLY RECKLESS motorist from the streets and highways.

He knows the value of CONSTRUCTIVE PUBLICITY and is splendidly equipped, through long experience, to get the sort of publicity for this city and county that will bring more people into this community and build up our business and industries.

Mr. Metzgar is still a comparatively young man, but has the wisdom of age which enables him to view all things in proportion.

In February, 1912, he was appointed Secretary-Manager of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, which position he filled during a reconstruction period for nearly 13 years, resigning August 1, 1924.

During this period he served 13 years as Secretary-Treasurer of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of Orange County, and as manager of the Santa Ana Business Men's Association.

He served one year as president of the Commercial Secretaries Association of Southern California.

He served a term as president of the Santa Ana Community Hospital.

He has subscribed and paid to the extent of his means for the building of semi-public and charitable institutional buildings that are now a credit to the community.

He organized the East Santa Ana Improvement Association. He managed the 1922 Orange County Fair, that was an unqualified success.

Most important of all his qualifications, J. C. Metzgar knows law, is LEVEL-HEADED and a PROVEN FRIEND OF ORANGE COUNTY.

We cordially invite every man and woman in Santa Ana Township to constitute themselves a committee to work and vote for J. C. Metzgar, for Justice of the Peace, and for what he represents in the forthcoming election.

A vote for Metzgar is a vote for your best interests.

PAVED ROAD BUILT ACROSS SAND HILLS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 10.—Transformation of the sand hills of eastern Imperial valley into an attraction easily accessible to automobile travel will soon be an accomplished fact, according to an announcement by the California highway commission.

State workmen, who have been employed all summer removing the old plank road and replacing it with new pavement, are nearly through, it is stated.

The asphalt concrete pavement, 20 feet in width, has been placed at an elevation equal to the height of the surrounding dunes, to prevent erosion by wind action. Building of this highway is considered one of the most spectacular and daring feats of highway engineering in America.

Hubby Made Her Walk Home, Wife Charges In Suit

Records of superior court today revealed the story of a man who made his own wife "walk home."

Mrs. Frances E. Hosler, 205 West Chestnut street, Anaheim, confessed to this distinction, in her suit for divorce, on file today, against Merrill E. Hosler, Attorney Monte C. Fiscus, of Brea, represents her.

The complaint states that while the couple was returning home from a party one evening, they quarrelled and Hosler compelled his wife to leave the machine and proceed to their home afoot.

On other occasions, Hosler handled his wife roughly, she alleged. Several times they separated, each time effecting a reconciliation at his pleadings and promises to treat her well, she said. But finally, after one quarrel, he announced abruptly that "she had better write home for money, as he was leaving," which he did.

They were married in Hartford City, Ind., April 7, 1924, and separated July 2, this year.

SANTA ANA IS CALLED IDEAL RESIDENCE CITY

Santa Ana, perhaps more than any other community in California, possesses in a marked degree those assets that make for the ideal residence city—good climatic conditions, attractive surroundings, beautiful and well kept homes and splendid educational facilities, according to Col. M. O. Gilbert, retired, U. S. army, now visiting this city. Colonel and Mrs. Gilbert are guests at St. Ann's Inn.

During the latter part of his service, Colonel Gilbert was attached to the judge advocate general's department, serving as judge advocate general at various corps headquarters.

Although already owning a home in Nebraska, Colonel Gilbert now is planning to build another home in Southern California. Before setting out for San Diego, he was advised to stop over in Santa Ana and see for himself what this community has to offer as a residence city.

JOHNSON WILL MAKE ADDRESS IN SANTA ANA

Senator Hiram Johnson will make one of his few political speeches of the primary campaign in Southern California, in Santa Ana on the evening of August 20, under the auspices of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

The decision to ask the senator to speak was reached last night at the regular meeting of the junior boosters. There was some discussion as to whether a meeting of a political nature would be proper for the junior chamber to arrange, but it was pointed out that Senator Johnson is the senior solon from California and, regardless of political faith, a large number of persons will desire to hear him and that the organization should avail itself of the opportunity of bringing him to Santa Ana and Orange county.

Arrangements for the meeting, at which Senator Johnson will be the principal speaker, were left in the hands of President Mason Youd. He said that the West End theater probably would be utilized for the gathering. Further details are to appear in the Register concerning the plans for the coming of the noted Californian.

President Youd also announced that Senator William A. Borah, of Idaho, will make one of the few speeches he will make in California in Santa Ana, under the auspices of the junior division.

FLIGHT ACROSS SOUTH POLE TO BE ATTEMPTED

Buenos Aires, Aug. 10.—Organization of a new south pole air expedition, to be initiated next October, has been announced here by Anton Pauli, Austrian engineer and explorer, whose intention is to conduct the first airplane trip to the bottom of the earth.

Pauli plans to start from Buenos Aires in a sailing ship near the end of October, in order to make the coast of Graham Land about the middle of November. According to plan, the ship will land the expedition on Wandel Island, at 55 degrees south latitude, where the primary base of operations will be established.

The next step will be the establishment of another base 10 degrees farther south. Eight trips by airplane are calculated to be sufficient to transfer food and fuel supplies to this point, which will be 300 miles nearer the pole. Following the establishment of this last base, the party will digress temporarily from its prime goal to make explorations in the Weddell sea and to Charcot Land.

For Dash to Pole

Following these explorations, a final preparatory move will be made to a point at 80 degrees south latitude, 400 miles nearer the pole than the previous base. This point is calculated to have an altitude of 6000 feet above sea level, and from here the flyers will make their dash to the south pole, a flight of 600 miles.

According to Pauli's statement, the pole is a plateau 1000 feet high. He states: "We will stop at the pole long enough to make necessary observations and to try to find messages left there by Captain Scott in 1922. We shall then continue the flight to Wales bay, where we hope to find the deposit left by Amundsen. This distance is about 600 miles, making the whole flight from our 80 degree base nearly 1200 miles."

Plane to Carry Six

In the actual flight across the polar region, Pauli plans to carry two passengers beside himself, a pilot, observer and mechanic. Two months' food supplies and equipment for a sledge expedition, to be used in case of accident to the plane, will complete the cargo carried on the flight.

No time limit has been set for the expedition, which is expected to end at Melbourne, Australia. Pauli is confident of his success and is laying careful plans to insure against mistakes in preparation. He has long been associated in ventures of exploration and research.

Pauli is the author of several volumes on geographic conditions in little known parts of South America and has long since established himself as a leading mining engineer in Chilean and Bolivian fields.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Senator Jim Reed's slush fund investigation has progressed far enough now so that Washington believes Frank L. Smith stands as little chance of being seated in the upper house of congress, even if he wins the senate fight in Illinois, as William S. Vare stands if he wins in Pennsylvania.

Politicians at the capital, however, are not so sure that Smith will carry Illinois as they are that Vare will carry Pennsylvania. Smith's Democratic rival, George Breuninger, has no such enormous Republican majority to overcome in the Sucker State, as William B. Wilson, opposing Vare, will have to overcome in order to win in the Keystone state. Pennsylvania Democrats have their hopes, of course, but they're not very brilliant.

Smith, then, may escape the humiliation of a rejection by the senate, by being beaten at the polls.

Prospects are extremely poor that Vare will get out of his difficulties in a similar manner. Elected, nothing can prevent his credentials from being turned down but on overwhelmingly Republican senate, and the best political judgment is that the next one will be anything but overwhelmingly Republican.

Vare being eliminated, it will be up to J. S. Fisher, Republican candidate for governor, who is sure to be elected, to fill the Pennsylvania vacancy by appointment.

There already is much speculation as to whom Fisher will pick, if called on to make a selection.

It is here that Ralph Beaver Strassburger comes into the picture. Fisher belongs to the Mellon wing of Pennsylvania Republicanism, and it may seem as if, given the opportunity, he would name a Mellon man for the senate. However, the Mellon interests are so delighted at having re-established harmony with the Vare faction, after the bitter primary fight, that political dopesters think they'll hesitate at affronting Vare, by ignoring him completely.

The whole situation hints—if Vare is elected and his seat is refused to him—at a compromise.

That's just what Strassburger would be. He's very friendly with the Mellons. He's on intimate terms with Fisher. Yet he supported Vare, though not in a way to make enemies in the Mellon group.

He's the owner of an influential newspaper at Norristown, in the eastern part of the state, and an eastern appointment is indicated, the other senator, David A. Reed, being from Pittsburgh.

Strassburger was the favorite of a great many Pennsylvania politicians at the late primary, but couldn't make the run, due to being unavoidably detained abroad until too late.

In short, he is a very logical candidate.

COULDN'T COME TO EARTH

Dorothy Lougheed of Calgary, Canada, daughter of a millionaire Canadian landowner and statesman, danced with the Prince of Wales and helped entertain him while he was a guest in her home. So later, when she married Nolan L. Hussey, of St. Louis, Mo., she couldn't come down to earth and get used to humdrum household duties. At least Hussey says so. He has been given a divorce on the ground of desertion.

LAST WILL OF NOTED GENERAL FILED IN COURT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 10.—The last will and testament of Gen. Andrew Jackson, probated in Davidson county, Tenn., is now on record in the Davidson county court house.

A search was made of the old records when an offer came to the state department of history from the east to supply the will to the state archives for a large sum of money.

President Jackson lived and died at his home, the Hermitage, near Nashville, and his will was probated in the county of Davidson, June 1, 1843, and recorded Oct. 30, 1845. His last will altered a will written Sept. 30, 1833.

"Since executing my will of the 30th of September, 1833," says his last will and testament, "my estate has become greatly involved by my liabilities for the debts for my beloved adopted son which makes it necessary to alter the same." "First," says the will, "I bequest my body to the dust whence it came and my soul to God who gave it—hoping for happy immortality through the atonements of our Lord, Jesus Christ, Savior of the world."

It was requested that his body be buried in a specially constructed tomb in the garden at the Hermitage beside "my dear departed wife."

The second provision was that all his just debts be paid out of his estate first and the rest of his estate, the Hermitage, revert to his adopted son, Andrew Jackson Jr. This included all real and personal property.

Requests of his negro slaves were enumerated and prized mementos were left in the care of various of his descendants and personal friends.

His home, the Hermitage, has been preserved as he left it.

A peculiarity of Japanese literature is said to be that no self-respecting Japanese novelist ever leaves a single character alive at the end of his book.

For the purpose of a single state banquet at Buckingham palace, four tons or more of gold plate are transported from Windsor castle.

FOR the first time in an automobile of economical production, these Studebaker Custom Sedans duplicate the master creations of custom design!

Swung low in the body—close-hauled in the coachwork—fleet and flowing in their lines—resplendent with the lacquered loveliness of duotone color schemes—and replete with every detail of correct custom treatment, from broad-lace trim, Butler finish hardware and Chase Mohair interiors to the silvered figure of Atalanta poised on the radiator.

These Custom Sedans combine the lines that appeal to a woman with the stamina that appeals to a man—add custom refinements to the ruggedness of Studebaker performance—offer disc wheels and four-wheel brakes—reaffirm the inflexible standards of Studebaker quality—and invoke anew the great Studebaker tradition of making good with the public by continually making better in the plant!

They are the latest examples of the Studebaker policy of progressive betterments. To the smoothness and power of the quiet Studebaker L-Head motor is added the custom symmetry of line and treatment that would be absolutely impossible, at the Studebaker price, without Studebaker One-Profit facilities.

These Studebaker Custom Sedans are now on view at our display rooms. You are invited to come in and see them.

It seems, a fitting custom, the exchanging of rings between maid and man on the occasion of their engagement. This day will thus be permanently commemorated.

Santa Ana Folk Enjoy The Many Activities At Forest Home

A NUMBER of interesting new items comes to The Register from Mrs. Genevieve M. Knox who is spending a few days at Forest Home, as are many other Santa Ana folk.

The first week of August has been one of varied amusements at Forest Home.

Monday evening the Hotel held a barbecue in the woods down by the creek which was followed by a big bonfire around which the merry-makers sat and sang songs. By the firelight several Santa Ana persons were recognized. Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Trueblood, Miss Lena Thomas and her sister, Mrs. Marshall Northcross, Mrs. W. G. Knox and daughter Marion.

Tuesday evening was the regular dance night. Of course everyone at Forest Home attended.

Wednesday the Boy Scouts of Brea came to the fore by putting on a clever program. The boys were directed by Mr. Cook, their scoutmaster.

Thursday evening there was a barn dance. The pavilion suddenly took on the appearance of a barn lighted by candles and lanterns, decked with an old buggy, harness, saddles, baled hay, and in one corner was a pony. Later in the evening the pony performed many interesting tricks. In one corner of the pavilion was a stand from which doughnuts and cider were served. Dancers were appropriately clad. Many expressions of surprise were heard as each one wondered where the clothe of the others had been found. A grand prize was won by Mrs. W. G. Knox, who was said to have the clearest costume. Santa Ana folk were well represented.

Broncho riding, steer throwing, lassoing and races caused much excitement among sojourners at Forest Home Friday when a rodeo was held at the Valley of the Falls Tract. The rodeo was to celebrate the completion of the paved road as far as that point. The Redlands Chamber of Commerce staged a parade. Mr. Lovering of the tract was host at a barbecue. In the afternoon and evening another program was presented and a dance was held at the pavilion.

"My Favorite Flower"

My favorite flower? First, the purple lilac. Lilacs bloomed in our doorway in my childhood days. They seem to be rare in California, but the first glimpse of a bunch of the flowers with their wonderful color and the first wealth of their exquisite fragrance always cause a little gasp, a hushed "Oh" and an instant mental picture of a rather brilliant father, a lovely mother and four dear little brothers. I love the lilac for its associations.

Next comes the rose. From sheer beauty it holds its place and I think I prefer the white Frau Karl Drouski variety. Then, as blue is my favorite color, I love all blue flowers from the vivid corn flower to the pale forget-me-not.

—Florence Beardsley Nealey.

First Party in Honor Of Mrs. George Baker Is Held

Last night's party and shower at the home of Mrs. A. G. Flag of North Broadway in honor of Mrs. George Baker, (Miss Louise Campbell) comes as the first one for her since her recent marriage in Santa Barbara to George Baker.

Assisting Mrs. Flag as hostesses were her two daughters, Mrs. J. Riley Huber and Miss Jimmie Flag.

The Flag home was lovely with many baskets of flowers grown in the gardens of Mrs. Flag.

The evening was spent in playing many interesting and amusing games, the two most important ones being the elopement game and hearts. Prizes for winning the elopement game went to Mrs. Donald Anatt of San Bernardino and Mrs. Clyde Werner of Los Angeles while Mrs. D. T. Campbell, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Charles D. Brown received consolation gifts. Miss Bonnie Dundar and Mrs. William McKay were awarded gifts for having high score in the game of hearts.

A bridal cake and ice cream formed the dainty refreshments served at the close of the evening.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the bride.

OVER TWENTY YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gooch of Sioux City, Iowa, who have been spending the summer in Santa Ana at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Klever of 221 Cypress avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday.

On August 9, 1876, Mr. and Mrs. Gooch were married in Belmont, Ill., and from then until June of this year they lived in the middle west. For a time they were in Indiana and then Nebraska and finally Iowa.

This spring it was decided that Mr. and Mrs. Gooch should take a second wedding trip and the natural place for them to come was California. On hearing that they were about to leave for the west, the Modern Woodmen of Sioux City presented Mr. Gooch, who had been a clerk in that lodge for 11 years, with a beautiful leather purse which contained five ten dollar gold pieces.

Accompanying them were Mrs. George Klever, Miss Zoe Pollard and Miss Helen Griggs, all of Sioux City.

Yesterday's dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gooch was also a farewell party as it marked the termination of the honorees' three months' visit in California. Because it was a golden wedding that was being celebrated, table decorations were in gold and white. Flowers were gladioli and Shasta daisies with smilax.

Mr. and Mrs. Gooch have many friends in Santa Ana who will be sorry to hear that they are leaving today for their home.

Santa Anans Return From Yellowstone

Albert J. Perkins and Herbert Rankin returned yesterday from an interesting trip of four weeks spent at Yellowstone National park with other members of the Sierra club. The party consisted of over 200 persons with a pack train of 100 horses, which carried camp necessities. A French chef had charge of the cuisine, and meals were served a la cafeteria. In addition to the usual scenes viewed by the tourist—geysers, hot springs, the two big falls and the canyon, the party penetrated into a portion of the park which is not visited by the excursionist, making a circular trip of over one hundred and fifty miles, beginning at West Yellowstone and returning there. A day's journey was reckoned at fifteen miles and camp was made fourteen times. In the wild canyons and along rocky slopes the party saw deer, elk and moose, and some rare birds, including the trumpeter swan and Canadian geese.

Brooklynites Plan To Reside in Santa Ana

Capt. and Mrs. Charles C. Oakes and daughter, Miss Mary, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., are guests of Capt. Oakes' cousin, Charles Oakes of 2430 French street. Capt. Oakes is a retired seaman who has an amazing list of voyages to his credit. He made 20 deep water voyages in 19 years, plying between San Francisco and European ports in the wheat trade. Later he captained a ship which went from New York to China, Japan and the Philippines. For 25 years he was associated with the Ward line and 11 of those years he spent as marine superintendent operating between New York and ports in Cuba and Mexico. Capt. and Mrs. Oakes have found Santa Ana to their liking and plan to make it their home. They will be located at 828 South Parton street for the coming six months.

Young People Wed At Local Parsonage

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. McCombie, of 213 Lacy street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Laura E. McCombie, to Z. Scotty Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gale of 423 South Flower street.

The marriage took place Saturday at the home of the Rev. F. T. Porter. The bride was charming in a beige sports dress with accessories to match.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Gale will reside with the groom's parents.

Jennie Lasby Writes Of Interesting Visit In Little German Town

ANY persons in Santa Ana are acquainted with Miss Jennie Lasby of the junior college will be interested in reading the following letter sent by her to Miss Louise Kaiser, president of the Business and Professional Women's club:

July 20, 1926.

My Dear Louise: I certainly was surprised when that big box was handed to me at the boat. I thought that the girls had done such a lot for me before that but how I did enjoy the letters and the many things that I found. The gum I am dealing out in half-sticks to the children of my German friends and they feel that they are half American as soon as they have a piece.

I disposed of my traveling companion and arrived at Trave-munde a week ago yesterday. We had a very nice trip and rather an interesting one. The most entertaining feature was a party of 21 midgits coming over to tour Europe. They had a huge specially built auto and a negro chauffeur. Two of them were on their wedding trip and two had a baby, which, of course, interested us more than all of the others. I promised to be normal and was so large the father and mother couldn't handle it and had to have a nurse. As usual most of the crowd were teachers.

I am spending some time in the same little German village I visited last summer. It really is quite an experience. Yesterday my friends gave a party for me and I wish you all could have looked in for a moment. I sat, of course, in state on the sofa. The very long table was a thing of beauty. They have such lovely table linen, very old china and silver. I never felt so much like stealing as I did yesterday when I saw the family silver brought out. But in spite of that the party was not exactly a pleasure as only two of the guests could speak English. I can fully sympathize with the deaf and dumb now.

One day last week we went to a near-by city, Lubeck, which is celebrating the seven hundredth anniversary of its incorporation. The old city hall has been restored and contains some of the most beautiful carvings to be found anywhere. They have built a ship after the model of the ships used in the twelfth century with which they won their independence. The great high wooden things that look exactly like a Chinese junk don't look very formidable compared with twentieth century battleships.

I was interrupted by the coming of callers, but fortunately 22 percent of them spoke English. And then I returned six calls and each time sat in state on the sofa and played the part of the deaf and dumb woman.

We are having such cold weather that I am nearly frozen and my friends insist that it is because I drank ice water in America.

I am working about three hours a day now so I am not entirely wasting the summer.

Jennie B. Lasby.

SHORT WALNUT CROP TO BRING HIGH RETURNS

Extremely large sizes and high prices are expected to return Orange county walnuts growers an almost normal income from their groves this year, despite the fact that Orange county's walnut crop is less than 20 per cent of normal, according to announcement today by J. E. Gowen, secretary of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association.

The Orange county crop is, perhaps, the lightest in the state, according to reports. The state crop will average about 60 per cent of normal, according to Gowen.

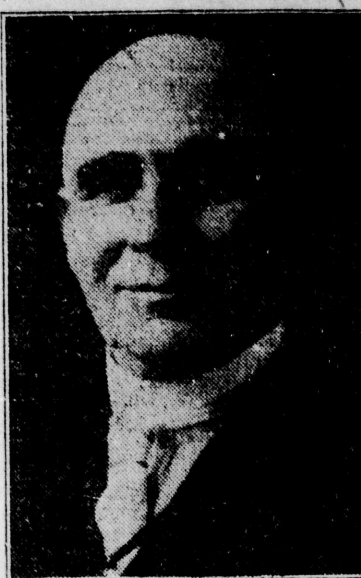

Due to the light set of nuts on the trees near Santa Ana, the entire crop will be of extraordinary size, according to Gowen. The large sizes, coupled with the light crop, should bring high prices for walnuts this year.

Reports from nearby sections of the state show that walnut crops in all districts are light and have suffered from the ravages of aphids during the last several months. The Ventura district will have a light crop as the Santa Ana area, according to reports. Indications point to a good crop in the Pomona and Chino districts. Whittier also gives promise of having a good crop, although the crop, in that district, is spotted. It was said. The walnut crop in Placentia and vicinity will be about 60 per cent of normal, according to a conservative estimate.

The late setting on the walnut trees was not as good this year as in previous years, said Gowen.

Walnut shipments from the Santa Ana house are estimated at about $800 tons for the coming season. Last year, 1800 tons of nuts were shipped from the Santa Ana house.

TO SPEAK HERE

Frank F. Merriam, of Long Beach, speaker of the assembly, is to be the speaker at the Kiwanis club, Santa Ana, Wednesday of next week. Merriam is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. His address at the Kiwanis club either will deal with legislative experience or with some of the amendments to be voted upon next November.

ELKS WILL ENJOY LIVELY PROGRAM

Big doings are scheduled for the regular meeting tonight, of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks.

Exalted Ruler Bill McKay says "there'll be something doing from the minute the lodge is called to order until way late into the night."

In the first place, 40 candidates are to be initiated. In the second place, 50 other candidates will be balloted upon. Then there will be more purely lodge business after which some U. S. attorney will be dish up for the edification of the 400 or 500 members who are expected to be present.

McKay says some real talent has been located in Los Angeles and will be brought here to entertain the members of the antlered herd. After the entertainment, big eats will be had in the basement.

Indict Attorney For Embezzling Orphan's Money

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Aug. 10.—L. P. Summers of Abingdon, Va., former U. S. attorney for the western district of Virginia, already sentenced to 15 months in Atlanta penitentiary for certifying to false accounts, is under another federal indictment charging misappropriation of $6895 as the guardian of an 11-year-old girl, orphaned when her father, a serviceman, was killed in the World war.

The funds were allotted to the girl under the war risk insurance act. Mrs. Violet Gwinn, grandmother of the child, Frankie Hatfield Estridge, described to the authorities the conditions under which the girl has been living with her in the seven years since the death of the father, Charles L. Estridge.

She charged that during these years Summers had embezzled the child's compensation of $17.50 monthly, and that she and the girl had received only occasional sums, such as $30 over a five-month period. Mrs. Gwinn said that she could neither read nor write and that twice the guardian had come for her signature to papers stating that she had received money from him. She signed once, she said.

Girl Rides Horse 24 Hours to Save Persian Refugees

TABRIZ, Persia, Aug. 10.—The championship among the world's women horseback riders ought to go without much dispute to Miss Marjorie Wilson of Watertown, N. Y., an American girl in the Near East Relief orphanage work here.

In order to save a large group of refugees from political intrigues which threatened to deprive them of their humble farms, she recently made a "nonstop" trip of 140 miles on horseback, halting only to change animals.

The journey was from Tabriz to Urmia and she made the distance in 24 hours' shorter time than the weekly train requires between these same two points.

Antique Experts Deal Out Justice

LONDON, Aug. 10.—One of the strangest tribunals in England sits at regular intervals in an upper room at the corner of King street and St. James street west, in the center of the great art world of London.

It is the antique dealers' "high court of justice," to which any of the 550 members of the British Antique Dealers' association has the right of appeal.

Its judges, 20, include some of the world's greatest experts on precious stones, old china, tapestries, pictures and antique furniture.

3 Mexicans Fined On Theft Charges

Three Mexicans charged with petit larceny in connection with stealing oranges from the Irvine ranch, were fined $25 each, yesterday afternoon in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. They were Manuel Sebreros, 18; Ellar Sebreros, 27, and Santiago Sebreros, 55. The three were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Smith and Roberts in their home, 1102 English street.

MONEY LENDERS SOUGHT AFTER IN SOVIET LAND

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—Private capital in Soviet Russia today is in the position of a startled Cinderella, who after sitting among the ashes for nine years, suddenly finds herself wooed by the mighty. Coy and elusive, Cinderella after many bitter lessons doesn't know whether to listen to the tempter or not.

A drive is on to coax Russian private capital to invest in Soviet government trusts and industries. This comes as a decided innovation, since the Soviets who have done all in their power to keep the wings of private capital thoroughly clipped, heretofore have kept state monopolies closed to the private investor.

M. Burchanoff, commissar of finance, announced the new policy in a public speech and made a serious bid for the investment of private capital in the government's factories. He appealed to the creators of private capital to come to the aid of the government trusts which are hampered and embarrassed by lack of funds, promising that the money invested would be perfectly safe.

Serious Crisis

Admitting that Russian industry is at present in the midst of a serious crisis, and that the plea for credits had been unheeded abroad, the commissar said:

"The Soviet union has no means of getting capital from outside. We must use the means that are inside the country. We need the capital that is involved in private interests inside Russia."

"Our greatest problem at present is to draw private capital into the general government industry. There is a great lack of means. We must have capital."

On the same occasion D. S. Kvirring of the chief economic council stressed another change of policy toward the native private funds. Concessions would be given hereafter to Russian business men in preference to foreigners.

"We have a number of concessions which do not need very great means, and which could be taken up easily by our private Russian capital—by groups, or by separate investors. We prefer to give these concessions to Russians instead of to foreigners."

Foreigners Bring Money

"It is true foreigners bring foreign money into the country, but it is also true that the profit goes back again abroad."

Thus the poor Cinderella was wooed only as a last resort. There was nothing else left to do. But will Cinderella listen to the soft words of the prince?

Great pains are taken by the finance commissar to insure private capitalists that their money would increase peacefully and safely in government investments. He pointed to the fact that the present code gives guarantees to private capital. The strongest insurance, he said, was that the government had entered the new economic policy "seriously, and for a long time."

A review of the situation shows that private capital has not fared exceptionally well at the hands of the government since the introduction of N. E. P. in 1921. When private trading was first allowed, business began to boom. Private stores opened and those who could find any funds at all, bought wildly, after the long period of communist rationing.

Private Capital Grows

Seeing that private industry would soon outgrow the government institutions, the authorities began to close down on the private merchants. In many cases businesses that had begun to flourish under the hands of the individual merchants, were quietly taken over by the government—after the machinery had been set into motion and trade was healthy and brisk.

Extremely heavy taxes, strict regulations of buying and selling, and an eagle-eyed supervision kept private traders from prospering too greatly. Any evasion of the stern laws set down would bring immediate action, often arrest and confiscation of the property.

Despite all this, private capital did grow. It was driven underground, where it multiplied in the face of every impediment. Little money is saved in Russia. A short time ago there were only 13,000,000 rubles in the savings banks of the country. Quick turnover investments keep private capital elusive and underground, so it will not attract too much attention.

Kvirring, to allay the fears of the man who has become an acrobat in business deals, who juggles his business affairs so that one day his entire capital is here, and another day yonder, insists that the time has come when Russia's underground capital should be invested in quiet conditions. "Lend your money to the government," he urges.

In Quito, everyone removes his hat on seeing a flash of lightning.

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well.

in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adm.

Santa Ana We Thank You

It is the greatest emotion that brings forth the simplest speech. It is usually sincerest that which is spoken in few words.

At this time of overwhelming interest in our GREAT SATURDAY SILK SALE when seemingly all of Santa Ana and neighboring towns descended upon us—words are inadequate to express our gratitude and thanks to all who honored us with their presence.

Santa Ana and vicinity truly has taken this store to their heart.

Greatest gains are not counted in dollars and cents—but are measured—and treasured—by the great number of new friends made—and old acquaintances pleased.

Santa Ana and vicinity sincerely we thank you.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT "What Makes a Good Tire?"

Question—Does any one single feature make a good tire?

Answer—No.

Question—Then what does make a good tire?

Answer—The perfection of all the different operations that are necessary in producing the finished product from tree to tire.

Question—As for example?

Answer—The success of the United States Royal Cord Balloon in delivering true balloon cushioning and comfort, and yet giving long-lasting service is largely due to these six important factors:

Plantations

The United States Rubber Company owns and operates scientific Rubber Plantations in Sumatra and Malaya. Has 7,000,000 rubber trees, all yielding latex now, from which this company produces its Sprayed Rubber and its Latex-treated Web Cord.

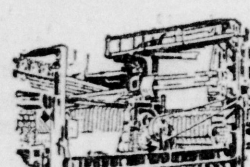

Sprayed Rubber

Of the greatest importance, because of its fine quality, and its freedom from acid and smoke. Briefly, the latex is sprayed into a chamber containing hot, dry air, which dries out the liquid from the latex, leaving the pure, solid rubber. This does away with the old methods of smoke-drying and acid coagulation.

Uniform Cotton Cord

To insure absolute uniformity and high quality of the cotton cord used in United States Tires, the United States Rubber Company operates its own cotton mills at Winnsboro, South Carolina. Here the choicest grade cotton is made into cords to meet the rigid requirements of the tire factories where it is used to produce Latex-treated Web Cord.

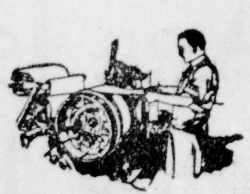

Latex-treated Web Cord

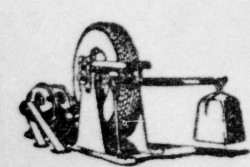

Also an invention of the United States Rubber technicians. The cords are laid parallel without tie-threads, and soaked in virgin rubber latex, which forms an elastic web through and through and between the cords. Important because it gives the cord structure maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

Flat-Band Method of Building Tires

Do not miss the importance of this revolutionary improvement in tire-building. The way it works is highly technical. But the result is that each cord in a United States Royal Cord is made to lie in exactly the right position, under precisely the right tension, and to take its due share of the work.

Searching Tests from the Tree to the Tire
United States Tire tests begin with the raw materials—and these tests never stop. Many tests are made during the process of manufacture and finished tires undergo various factory tests such as the "Tread Wear Test" illustrated. Even after the tires are sold and in use, their performance on the road is being checked by factory-trained experts stationed all over the country.

S. A. AMERICAN LEGION MEN TO PAINT UP TOWN
AT CONVENTION

Susanville, Populated By
900 Souls, To Be Host
To California Veterans

HAPPY TIME PLANNED
BY EX-SERVICE MEN

Will Attempt to Elevate
Plank and Grouard to Important State Posts

To decorate the town of Susanville, Calif., with orange colored signs with the words "Orange County" printed on them, 50 members of the American Legion, 25 of whom represent the Santa Ana post of the ex-service men's organization, have gone, or will leave today, tomorrow and Thursday, for the little town in the northern end of the state, "where the tall pines grow," to attend the state convention of the American Legion to be held on August 16 and 17.

A large number of the delegates from the Santa Ana post will leave here Thursday, via boat to San Francisco, thence to Susanville by train, but many in their own automobiles already have left. Among the latter are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wieland, who will tour the northern section of California before going to Susanville.

Town of 900 People
The town of Susanville has only 900 people, but it's a "big place" in American Legion "doings" and it has many times, in the past 10 years, been put on the map by the active members of the Susanville post.

There probably is no other town in the country, as unimportant, that has entertained a convention like the California state American Legion expects to hold this year and very few towns in the country so far away from the beaten path go after things like Susanville does. Shelby, Mont., probably is the only exception.

More than 8000 Legionnaires, representing virtually all of the divisions that fought in the late war, will be present at the convention and, although Susanville has promised the biggest and best convention of all, the ones in charge there are not giving publicity to all of their plans to make the convention the "biggest and best."

Leaving here today are George Platt, G. K. Scovel and Ed Stubble who will travel by auto to the place where the big pines grow and Thursday the following delegates will leave via boat:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nussbaumer, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Todd, Franklin Grouard, Robert Collins and B. C. Chapman.

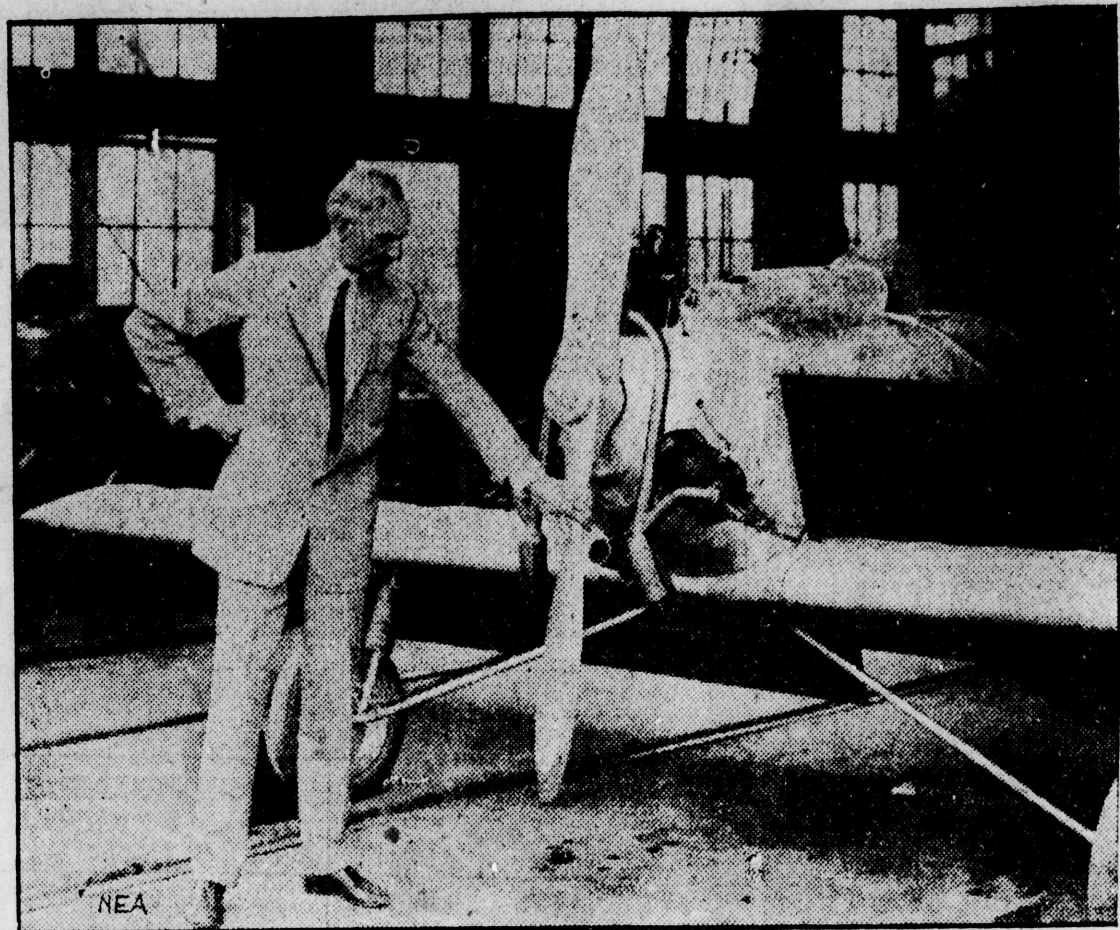

Never Missed Convention

Scovel is commander of Santa Ana post No. 131. Collins, veteran leader of American Legion affairs in Orange county, is one delegate who has the reputation of never having missed a state or division convention.

Al Steiner and Charles Van Wyk, live wire members, will leave here tomorrow for the convention.

Orange county stickers by the hundreds will be pasted over the entire town and Orange county delegates are going out after some of the state jobs that will be open at election of officers. It was said. Joe Plank, head of the 40 and 8 society of Orange county, is slated for vice-president of the state organization of the 40 and 8, and efforts will be made to elevate Franklin "Brick" Grouard, who now is state conductor for the 40 and 8.

WILL HENRY FORD DARKEN SKIES WITH HIS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT AIR FLIVVER?

This shows Henry Ford displaying an experimental model of the new "air flivver" that Otto Kaplan, a young Detroit inventor, has developed in Ford's private machine shop. Ford believes that there is a big market for planes of this type and it is hinted that his factory may turn them out in quantities. The plane measures only 18 feet from wing tip to wing tip, is 12 feet long, weighs only 320 pounds and can develop a 100-mile speed with a three cylinder engine.

MYSTERIES OF
GOLD BEATING
ARE EXPLAINED

The intricacies and mysteries of gold beating were told yesterday by C. W. Rowland, who spoke before the Business and Professional Women's club at St. Ann's Inn.

Rowland said that gold beating was the only industry that had not changed during the last 3000 years.

"The Egyptians, at the height of their civilization, beat gold and the methods employed were exactly like those of today," he said. "And through all of the centuries since then, goldsmiths have beaten gold. At present there are 96 gold beating establishments in the United States. Six of these are in California, and two in Orange, Orange county, which is one reason why persons here should take an interest in this unique industry."

Preceding Rowland's talk, one guest, Mrs. R. E. McBurney, was introduced and letters from Margaret Reed and Jennie Lasby were read.

Miss Louise Kaiser, president, asked that more names be sent in for the newspaper, the second of which was issued yesterday. She also requested that all members interested in attending the convention, to be held in Hollywood September 2, 3 and 4, notify her.

Al Steiner and Charles Van Wyk, live wire members, will leave here tomorrow for the convention.

Orange county stickers by the hundreds will be pasted over the entire town and Orange county delegates are going out after some of the state jobs that will be open at election of officers. It was said. Joe Plank, head of the 40 and 8 society of Orange county, is slated for vice-president of the state organization of the 40 and 8, and efforts will be made to elevate Franklin "Brick" Grouard, who now is state conductor for the 40 and 8.

NEED OF PROPER CARE FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN TOLD
IN REPORT TO ROTARIANS

Recognition by public authorities, executive as well as legislative, by charity and social welfare organizations, as well as by every civic-minded citizen of the problems surrounding the fate of 15,000 crippled children, 90 per cent of whom are classed as charity cases, and of the need for effective measures that will provide proper care and training, is urged by Marshall L. Keeler, chairman of the crippled children's committee, of the Santa Ana Rotary club, in a report presented today to the directors of the club.

Keeler represented the Orange county clubs at a conference meeting held in San Francisco, July 27, at which time an organization, known as the California Society for Crippled Children, was perfected.

In addition to holding the chairmanship of crippled children's committee in Santa Ana Rotary club, Keeler is vice president of Crippled Children's Relief society of Orange county. As a member of the Santa Ana board of education, he has taken an active interest in all measures tending to improve the lot of destitute, afflicted and otherwise handicapped children.

Interest in Undertaking
Keeler's report, showing the interest taken by Rotary clubs in dealing with this problem, follows in part:

At the conference held by second district of Rotary International, in San Diego, during May, 1926, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, the activities of the various service clubs of the state of California in behalf of crippled children, have shown the existence in the state of a present, serious and large problem, namely, the rehabilitation of these crippled children, and their education during convalescence;

"Whereas, the time seems appropriate for immediate action looking to the formation in California of a state-wide society, the object of which shall be to attack the problem of crippled children;

"No, therefore, be it resolved, that the second district of Rotary International, in conference assembled in San Diego, May 6, 7 and 8, 1926, urges that steps be taken to the end

TRUSTEES HAVE QUIET MEETING
WITH 3 PRESENT

Little Official Business Is Transacted at Gathering
Attended by Quorum

With but three members present, sufficient to constitute a quorum, no matters of importance were taken up at an adjourned meeting of the city trustees, held last night at the council chamber, business being limited to consideration of minor affairs.

At the request of the other members of the library board, Dr. C. D. Ball and Harry L. Hanson, whose terms of office expired August 1, were reappointed for another term. The other members of the board are Mrs. Nellie P. Tedford, Theodore P. Kelly and Mrs. Carrie E. Tople.

Matter of Deed Delayed
A recommendation of the planning commission that the trustees accept a deed to that piece of land lying along Santiago creek, between Valencia and Santiago streets, providing that the city will incur no liability by such acceptance, was tabled until the next regular meeting. The proposed transfer of the property to the city is for the purpose of clearing the channel of the creek for flood waters by filling certain areas now subject to overflow. City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., counseled the trustees to go slow with any improvements changing waterways, and suggested that the matter be referred to the city engineer for his recommendations.

Contract for city printing was awarded to Gilbert P. Campbell. Following a rechecking of a petition for paving Occidental street, between Main street and Maple avenue, the city engineer was instructed to prepare necessary plans and specifications.

Wants Temporary Lights
George R. Wells, representing the East Santa Ana Improvement association, appeared before the trustees with a request that, pending installation of ornamental lights, a sufficient number of temporary lights be installed on East Fourth street, covering that portion of the thoroughfare that lies between Main and Mortimer streets. Wells said that, since the removal of the old light posts, the street is dark. The request was referred to Councilman Geo. McPhee, with power to act.

Resolutions of intentions for paving and improving Louise street and Victoria drive were adopted by the council.

Hearing of protests on the proposed improvement of Bristol street, scheduled for last night's meeting, was continued until next Monday night.

DENY KITCHENER'S
BODY RECOVERED

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Lord Kitchener's tragic fate in the North sea during the war was officially listed under the head of "mysteries not likely ever to be solved," when the British government issued a White Paper denying a newspaper story that Kitchener's body had been buried in Norway, after the sinking of H. M. S. Hampshire.

Kitchener's end, like the loss of the U. S. collier Cyclops is one of the strange problems left by the World war.

The Hampshire was sunk, presumably by a German mine or torpedo, June 15, 1916, three hours after the ship had left her anchorage in the Orkney islands for Archangel, Russia. Frank Powers, who long has investigated all clues regarding Kitchener's end, recently stated in a newspaper article that the grave had been found. The Daily Express quoted Powers as saying that Kitchener's body was on the way to England.

66 BOYS LEAVE FOR
WEEK AT Y. CAMP

Sixty-six boys, together with their adult leaders, went from Orange county this morning for a week at the Y. M. C. A. Camp Osceola. Twenty-three of the boys were from Santa Ana, and the others from Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, and north parts of the county.

The Girl Reserves, who had been at camp for the last week, have returned home, full of enthusiasm over the wonderful time they have had on their outing.

A. J. Raitt, of Fullerton, and Conrad Jonsgaard, of Anaheim, are the Y secretaries in charge of the camp for younger boys. The boys in their care are youngsters under 12 years of age, and for many of them it is their first camping experience. They will have a full program of games, class work, Bible study and hikes.

The boys who went this morning from Santa Ana were Melvin Patterson, Bruce Johnston, Bud Elliott, Corrie Voglesang, Robert Friend, Harold Woodward, Robert Tannenbaum, Malcolm Richards, Sammy Jacobson, Richard Gilliland, Harland Moore, James Willmarth, Sammy Tucker, Roger McCune, Hartley Davis, Claude Owens, Elmer Curry, Emil Gluck, Harry Flockton, Gerald Bell, Billy Veatch, Bud Hood and Tommy Weir.

Introduction of a musical and instructive program at the meeting, yesterday, of the Automobile Trades Association of Santa Ana, proved a success. The program idea was suggested last week as a possible method to secure a larger attendance at the meetings. The fact that more than 25 members of the organization were present yesterday proved the success of the plan.

Mrs. Thomas Willis sang several selections, including "By a Waterfall" and "Keep On Smiling." She was accompanied at the piano by E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist. Miss Betty Joe Willis gave a number of recitations.

O. A. Haley was the speaker of the day. Haley spoke on "Our Auto Trades Association." Thomas Willis and Jack Gledhill were the chairmen for the day. William McConnell will act as chairman at the meeting next Monday noon.

GROWERS PREPARE FOR BEAN HARVEST

Blackeye bean growers this week are hustling their teams along the bean rows, while cutters are severing the roots of the blackeyes preparatory to the harvest.

Reports indicate that the best of the blackeye lands in the dry section this year will yield as high as 10 sacks to the acre. As a rule, blackeyes are grown on hillside or other lands not of the best. The better lands as a rule go to lima beans. Lima beans are maturing rapidly. Weather conditions have been ideal, say growers, and heavy yields are expected all over the Irvine ranch, upon which most of the limas grown in this county are grown. Heavy yields are expected, as usual, on the irrigated fields in the Greenville and Wintersburg sections.

The cutting of limas on the Irvine ranch will be begun within the next two weeks, possibly within 10 days.

JUNIOR DIVISION
VOTES AGAINST LINING UP WITH NATIONAL BODY

After Arguments Pro and Con, Members Decide
They Will Not Affiliate

RADIO INVITATION
OF L. B. ACCEPTED

Organization Will Sponsor
Program to Be Broadcast
Oxer KFON, Aug. 16

The junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will not affiliate with the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A decision to this effect was the outstanding business transacted at the meeting of the junior division last night, at Ketter's cafe. Strong arguments were advanced both pro and con, with William Iverson, E. M. Sundquist and L. B. Crawford doing most of the talking against the proposal to join, and Bruce Switzer, Harry Westover, Ridley Smith and President Mason Yould holding forth for the affiliation.

A resolution asking the Parent-Teacher association of Santa Ana to hold its meetings at night, so that the fathers of the school children might attend, was lost, on the ground that the junior division would be placing itself in the wrong light as regards the administration of the association, even though it might be conceded that there was merit in the purpose of the resolution.

To Sponsor Radio Program

Harry Brackett, representing the Long Beach Advertising club, invited the junior division to sponsor a program to be broadcast over station KFON, the evening of August 16. The invitation was enthusiastically accepted and L. R. Crawford was named chairman of the committee to recruit talent.

Along the subject of radio, George Wheeler suggested that the junior division again investigate the possibility of establishing a 500-watt storage battery station in Santa Ana. He said he knew of several such outfits that could be purchased very reasonably and that there was no question but that a radio station would more than pay its own way, besides providing the highest type of publicity for Santa Ana. Wheeler was named chairman of the committee.

The suggestion that the organization build bleachers for the indoor baseball fans of the city was referred to a committee headed by Dean Collier.

Harry Harlow was named chairman of the entertainment committee for the next meeting.

Addressed by Allen

The principal speaker at the meeting of the junior division was delivered by James L. Allen, candidate for the Republican nomination for judge of the superior court. Allen did not make a political speech, taking as his subject "Civic Pride."

He pointed out that no city in the United States the size of Santa Ana had made more progress in the last 20 years and on the same set of figures made the prediction that in 1930 Santa Ana would have 38,015 population, which represents an increase in population of 145 per cent within the last 10 years.

CREDIT MEN OF SANTA ANA AT L. A. MEETING

Business and credit men of Santa Ana will take advantage of an opportunity to obtain first hand knowledge of the credit business of the United States, according to an announcement this morning from the Orange County Credit association.

The association this morning dispatched Earl Rudy to the National Retail Credit Men's association convention, which opened today in the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles.

More than a dozen other Santa Ana business men also are expected to attend the meeting in Los Angeles during the week, according to reports. The meeting will give the business and credit men an insight into the credit business in all sections of the United States.

1000 DELEGATES AT OPENING SESSION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—More than 1000 delegates attended the opening session here today of the annual convention of the National Retail Credit Men's association. Texas, next to California, led in the number of registrations.

The credit men were welcomed at the opening by Mayor George Cryer. Leopold L. Meyer, national second vice president, of Texas, responded for the visitors.

Annual reports of the president and secretary were made by Ralph W. Watson and D. J. Woodcock, respectively.

BIG SIX CUSTOM BROUGHAM NEW STUDEBAKER CREATION

'President' Another Ultra- Distinctive Car Just Announced

Three custom designed sedans, incorporating the beauty and refinements of exclusive custom cars, but at "family prices," were announced today by the Studebaker corporation of America through local Studebaker dealers. These cars are an addition to the present line of Studebaker models and include a standard six custom sedan, a big six custom brougham and the president, an ultra-distinctive big six custom sedan, embodying the most luxurious refinements of custom coachwork.

Outstanding features of the Studebaker custom sedan are low-slung bodies with fleet, flowing lines; rich duotone lacquer color schemes, which are carried through to complete harmony in both interior and exterior treatment; Butler finish hardware, mohair or broadcloth interiors with broadcloth trim. Disc wheels, lacquered to match the body tone, and four-wheel brakes are standard equipment.

"The introduction of Studebaker custom sedans mark a significant new development in American motor car manufacture," Harry D. Riley, Studebaker, Orange county, said in outlining the policy behind the announcement. "By creating a meeting ground for the custom designs of America's foremost coach builders and the one-profit facilities of the Studebaker factories, it is now possible to produce a line of motor cars which are custom designed in every detail but still are within the reach of the great group of buyers of moderately priced cars. The day of exorbitant prices for fine cars is past."

"Custom coachwork on the Studebaker chassis is by no means an innovation. For years, many of America's most discriminating motorists have combined Studebaker stamina and performance with the bodies especially designed and built for them. In recognition of this growing trend, Studebaker established a salon in the rose room of the Plaza hotel, New York City, where custom body builders might exhibit special creations on the Studebaker chassis. The decision to unite the

Mrs. Ruth Lockhart and Mrs. W. J. Weddle, of Kansas, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eastwood and family spent Monday at Lomita.

Mrs. F. C. Hollabaugh, of Bellflower, is spending a few days at the R. L. Pollard home while her husband is on a business trip to Phoenix.

Mrs. Henry West and daughters, Ruth and Alva, spent Thursday and Friday in Walteria as guests of Mrs. J. B. Young.

J. L. Edwards has returned from a deer hunt in Kings River valley. He accompanied a party from Huntington Beach.

A dinner was given Saturday to celebrate the birthday of E. W. Valentine. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Greenhaw, of Bellflower, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Henry West.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brewer and Mrs. Halford, of Los Angeles, were visitors at the Marshall home recently.

Mrs. A. F. Griffith, of Imperial valley, spending the summer in Tustin, was a guest of Mrs. R. L. Pollard.

C. A. Eastwood is having a new foundation laid for his residence. Mr. and Mrs. Henry West and family were visitors in Bellflower Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hannigan and baby were guests of Mrs. W. S. Stroenider in Covina Sunday.

Ray Burns has returned from a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cozad and Harry Cozad, of Santa Ana, were guests of David Cozad in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Olla Ellis accompanied a party from Long Beach to spend the week-end on the W. J. Cozad ranch at Hemet.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mansperger visited her mother, Mrs. W. N. Morrow, in Los Angeles Sunday.

advantages of custom design with the benefits of one-profit manufacture was largely a result of the marked interest shown in the rose room exhibit. By virtue of this union it is now possible to produce cars in which there is no compromise with custom quality, but which are of moderate cost.

No changes in either the standard or big six engines have been made in the custom designed line, it was stated. The big six motor, which powers the custom brougham and the president, is equalled in rated power by only seven American cars, according to the rating of the Society of American Automotive Engineers. It is the same engine which propelled Ab Jenkins' Studebaker "sheriff" on its recent record smashing dash from New York to San Francisco. And, except for refinements, it is the same motor as those which have powered hundreds of big sixes to membership in the Studebaker "100,000 Mile club."

The standard six motor is likewise distinguished for abundant power. It is the most powerful engine in any car of its size and weight, according to the Society of Automotive Engineers' rating.

NEWPORT BAY YACHT REGATTA HUGE SUCCESS

With more than 700 yachtsmen and others registered, the Southern California Yachting association regatta, which closed Saturday night on Newport bay, was the biggest yachting gathering ever held on the Pacific coast. The best endorsement of its success was the sentiment of the visitors, who urged an early return of the regatta to Newport bay.

The closing spectacle, the annual Balboa Tournament of Lights, started promptly at 8 o'clock on signal from aerial bombs and sky-rockets. Hundreds of illuminated and decorated boats of all sizes and descriptions passed in parade over Newport bay, covering a course over five miles in length. All sorts of ingenious designs were executed and many novel displays of color and form were included. Trophies were awarded the boats in the various classes. The Snow-bird fleet, of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, had 16 craft in the illuminated line.

The Santa Ana band and several orchestras added to the entertainment and the view, as the great bay was made as light as day from giant star shells, was one which the spectators will not soon forget.

Thousands of automobiles carried the throngs of visitors to the bay. Added interest was in evidence this year in the decoration of the homes, which line the banks of the bay. Hardly a house but what carried its display of colored lights. Hundreds of searchlights added still more to the spectacle.

NEW YORK TO DECIDE DEMPSEY FATE TODAY

BILLY EVANS
Says

WHY YANKEES LEAD

Three sustained winning streaks explain why the Yankees are out in front in the American League.

The first streak consisted of eight straight wins, the second comprised just twice as many, while the third totaled eleven.

Thus in three winning streaks the Yankees have knocked off 35 ball games, about the margin the team now enjoys in the race for the pennant.

GROVE AND FABER

In each instance it took mighty good pitching to stop the wrecking crew presided over by Miller Huggins.

It was "Lefty" Grove of the Athletics who turned the trick on the first two occasions, while the veteran Urban Faber of the Chicago White Sox put an end to the third winning streak.

Faber's win was a pitcher's battle in which one veteran spitball triumphed over another, Urban Shocker of the Yankees. Each twirler allowed only three hits but the Sox bunched their three for two runs, just enough to win.

Faber and Shocker are two of the very few spitball pitchers still doing business in the big show.

STARS ARE FADING

Inside of three years, five at the very outside, baseball will be losing some of its outstanding stars.

It is doubtful if the great Ty Cobb will try to perform as a regular next season. Only the fact that Ty had a few records he wanted to smash, account for him playing so much this year.

Eddie Collins has been greatly handicapped all season by a bad leg, the one injured late last fall and which has failed to come back to normal.

The injury to Collins cuts down his ground-covering possibilities and makes the playing of the game real work. I once heard Collins say that when playing the game became an effort rather than a pleasure, he intended to quit. It must be that now.

There is no doubt but that Collins has played many a ball game this year when physically unfit to give his best.

There are many veterans like Speaker, Wheat, Johnson, Alexander and others who are being counted out by Father Time and in each and every instance, leg trouble is the greatest handicap.

When the legs slow up, it spells the finish in baseball.

Recently one of the Chicago White Sox pitchers in a game with New York threw a fast one in Babe Ruth's groove. The result was a home run that decided the ball game.

As the Bambino ambled around the paths the "peppery" Ray Schalk, star catcher of the Sox, raved over the happening.

"If a pitcher would only work properly on Ruth, the Babe would have his troubles breaking any home run records," said Schalk.

"Don't get the impression that I think it is possible to keep Ruth from hitting. Far from it. My thought is that proper pitching would cut his home run possibilities down to doubles and singles."

"I don't believe Ruth would ever make a home run batting against 'but Pennock is with the Yanks."

"Pennock is one of the smartest of pitchers, who constantly works on the batter's weakness. Ruth would never get anything fat from him."

Schalk's estimate of Southpaw Herb Pennock explains why he is one of the most effective left-handers that ever tried to outguess a major league batter.

In other words Pennock is a smart pitcher.

The first Sunday law in America was enacted in Virginia, previous to 1823. It punished absence from church on Sunday, without excuse, by the forfeiture of 50 pounds of tobacco.

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR BUD TAYLOR

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—When Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, arrives in Los Angeles from Chicago this afternoon he will be given a royal welcome by hundreds of boxing men and friends.

The "blonde terror" has an engagement here to meet Dixie LaHood at the Olympic auditorium Wednesday night, August 18.

Although Taylor has been away for several months he may not tarry long in Southern California. He is scheduled to return to Chicago for a Labor day match with Charley "Phil" Rosenberg for the bantam-weight championship.

Matchmaker Joe Levy announced a good supporting card for the Taylor-LaHood affair. Frankie Novey meets Benny Furrell in the semi-final of six rounds. In the six-round special Jimmy Marcus and Teddy Eastbrook, middleweights, clash.

PESEK WILL MEET
NICK LUTZ IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—John Pesek and Nick Lutz will step on the mat tomorrow night at the Olympic auditorium with a bitter determination to win, both knowing that the victor will be given a chance at Joe Stecher's world heavyweight championship wrestling crown.

The match between Pesek and Lutz is bringing out more bets on Spring street's markets than any previous wrestling bout staged in this city. Two of the most damaging arm holds used in the game will be brought into play when the heavyweights get together.

Pesek uses a double wrist lock and Lutz's favorite is the double arm scissors. Lutz is favored by his followers because of his youth while Pesek is regarded as one of the fastest men in the wrestling game.

Stecher's signature was obtained on a contract by Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter after more than a week of conferences. The champion will receive 50 per cent of the gross gate receipts. This should be in the neighborhood of $10,000 and will be the biggest purse ever offered a wrestler for a match west of the Rocky mountains.

ORANGE, Aug. 10.—Charged with disturbing the peace, Alejandro Chavez and Chris Aguilar, both of El Modena, are in the Orange city jail, following their arrest last night in El Modena. They pleaded not guilty when they appeared before Judge Ingle this morning but were unable to raise the $50 bail set by Ingle.

The complaint was signed by Frank Martinez, also of El Modena, who alleges he caught the two men peeping in his home.

REJECT PULLMAN CUT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—An attempt by traveling salesmen's organizations to get the interstate commerce commission to cut Pullman charges was tentatively rejected when Examiner John B. Keeler advised the commission that Pullman charges were "not shown to be unreasonable."

WEATHER HELP TO GOLFERS OF
PACIFIC COAST

SEATTLE, Aug. 10.—One wonders why Pacific coast entries in national and inter-sectional golf and tennis championships show up so favorably. This situation was brought out again with the recent showing of Pacific Northwest entries in the western amateur golf championships, taking in all territory from Mexico to Canada and from Pittsburgh to the Pacific. The coast entries swept the entire field at the White Bear Lake title play.

The answer seems to be merely this. Pacific coast entries have the advantage of weather which permits all-weather play, whereas eastern and middle-west states have favorable climate for tennis and golf only about six months in the year.

Certainly if the rule "practice makes perfect" applies in any department it does to tennis and golf. It is more than half the secret of success in those two sports.

Out where the west begins, golf never ends. It is daily becoming more popular in the northwest as is tennis in California and it is a foregone conclusion that the element of weather in time will produce the titleholders in golf for the Pacific coast as it already has in tennis.

If Dolp and Stein, Pacific Northwest winner and runner-up respectively at White Bear Lake had not won it might have resulted next year in bringing to Seattle, where the western amateur championship will be held, of only the champion and one or two others. These, plus California entries would have combined to make up the western amateur field for 1927. As it is, the middle-west cannot afford to allow the western amateur to go by default next year so a big field of talented competition is expected here for 1927.

Captain of Lost
Freighter Admits

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—After he had pleaded guilty to charges of negligence, the certificate of Capt. John Soderlum, master of the freighter Nocturn, which was lost on the rocks off Salt Point, 100 miles north of San Francisco, last Wednesday, was suspended for three months and 28 days.

The federal steamboat inspectors, conducting the hearing into the cause of the accident, decided that Soderlum may obtain a new certificate at the expiration of this suspension.

The certificate of Second Mate Fred Atwood, who likewise pleaded guilty to negligence, was suspended for 60 days.

The man was taken to Los Angeles last night to face the charge. George Murillo, a 30-year-old man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Smith and Mozley on a non-support charge. He was lodged in jail here and probably will be given a hearing today before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Three Dresses Are Taken by Burglars

Burglars stole three dresses from the home of Mrs. H. G. Rose, 2451 Electric Lane, Seal Beach, last night, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office.

No one was in the house at the time of the burglary.

A black georgette dress, an Irene Castle dress and a brown canton crepe dress were stolen, according to the report.

Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, investigated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Texas; John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif.; Bobby Seller of San Francisco; Emmet Pare, Chicago; Julius Seligson of New York, and Henry Johnston, of Boston, stood out as favorites as the second day of play in the national junior tennis championships got under way.

Junior Coen, of Kansas City, looked far superior to the field in the boys' division.

TWO FAIL IN ENDEAVORS TO SWIM CHANNEL

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 10.—Georges Michel, of France, and Isak Helmy of Egypt today abandoned their efforts to swim the English channel.

The swimmers abandoned at 10:30 a. m. today after 13 hours in the water during which they had progressed 12 miles from the French coast. They had accomplished less than a mile for every hour in the water, and had been able to swim slightly more than half way across the channel in one hour and a half less time than Gertrude Ederle required to complete the entire swim.

Today's was Helmy's fourth failure. He is a wealthy amateur swimmer and has been contesting the channel for two years. He swims a cumbersome over-arm stroke and is very slow. Just before he left Egypt this season, he was received in audience by King Fuad, who asked him to do his utmost to swim the channel for the glory of Egyptian sport.

Georges Michel is a former French distance champion and one of the channel regulars. He trained with Bill Burgess before Bill succeeded in swimming the channel in 1911. Michel is powerful but slow.

FRIGIDAIRE PRICE
CUTS ANNOUNCED

A cut of $20 to $90 was announced today in all lines of Frigidaire by John W. Jessee, of the Electrical Appliance company, Santa Ana agent for the electric refrigerator. An increase in demand has resulted in the reduction, according to Jessee. During the last few months more than 200,000 Frigidaires have been sold, according to a report received by Jessee from the Frigidaire plant.

A production increase will be made possible through a $20,000,000 expansion program, recently announced by the Frigidaire company. The new plant will be complete and on production before 1927.

Sales of Frigidaire products now are extending to groceries, restaurants, meat dealers, druggists and florists, according to Jessee. It is estimated that during the coming year, sales of the Frigidaire will amount to more than $50,000,000.

K. K. K. SIGNS LAND
FIVE BEHIND BARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—A police court case, which threatened to culminate in an investigation over the tides in San Francisco bay, ended abruptly when the district court of appeals discharged five men from custody after they had served 12 days of a 30-day sentence for painting K. K. K. signs on a vessel strangled in the Golden Gate channel.

The court sustained contentions of the defendants that the prosecution in the case had not proved the act was committed without the consent of the ship's owners and their release was ordered.

The attorney for the five youths planned to make an issue out of jurisdiction in the case, contending that, when the bay tide was in, the city was without legal power to act.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD LEGION
GAME TONIGHT

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to attend the opening game of the new American Legion Indoor Baseball league this evening at the Lincoln school when the Blauer Grocery team tangles with the fast Excelsior Creamery company boys.

The league opening, scheduled for last night, was postponed owing to the fact that several of the Blauer team were out of the city. The game tonight will bring together two of the best teams in the league. The Blauer team recently emerged from the first American Legion league with the championship, having lost but one game all season. There have been a few changes in the Blauer team but not enough to weaken it to any great extent. Some strength has been added in some places.

The Excelsior team, though not overly successful in the first league, was a strong one, but it has been materially strengthened and should be a real contender for the pennant in the new league. Many out of town players have been added to the Excelsior roster and the fans who witness the game this evening will see it as a team battle against each other with chances equal for winning.

Tomorrow evening the O'Donnell Motors will take on the Santa Ana Lumber company. The latter team is new in the league and its strength at this time is seen in its small quantity. The team is captained by Stanley Clem and he declares he has built up a formidable aggregation that will give a good account of itself.

SHORT SPORTS

ATLANTA, Ga.—Tiger Flowers, middleweight champion, will meet battling McCreary here tonight. It is his first appearance here since he won the title from Harry Greb.

NEW YORK—Miss Elizabeth Ryan, who defeated Miss Helen Wills last week at the Seabright tournament, is expected to delay her announcement concerning turning professional until after the women's national tennis championships. She is a close friend of Suzanne Lenglen and is rumored to be ready to join the French star in forsaking amateur tennis.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—A new mark for sales this season was set here when fifty yearlings brought an average price of $4,000. The highest price paid was for a chestnut colt, Man-O-War out of Jeanne Bowder. Lively bidding ended with the sale of the colt at $25,000.

PALO ALTO—Andy Kerr, member of Stanford's coaching staff for the past four years, will leave tomorrow for Washington, Pa., where he is to become head football coach at Washington and Jefferson university.

SAN FRANCISCO—"Doc" Wright has jumped into leadership of Coast league pitchers in the point of games won percentage. The Angel hurler won 15 in 13 starts. DECISION OVER
LICENSE RESTS
WITH ONE MAN

Committee Also May Decide
To Again Postpone Action for at Least 2 Weeks

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—"Even money and take your choice," was the tip passed on Broadway today as the New York license committee was scheduled to tell Tex Rickard officially and finally whether Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney can meet in the Yankee stadium on September 12 for the world's heavy-weight championship.

There may be reasons why the license committee should go against the two to one vote of the boxing committee favoring the match, and there may be other reasons why the committee should stand on its own feet and declare that Tunney instead of Harry Wills should fight Dempsey.

There were reports that Colonel Phelan, chairman of the committee and commander of the "fighting Irish 69th" would say to Sergeant Tunney of the marines, "We soldiers must stick together, you can have a license to fight."

And to Dempsey, the same rumor had it Colonel Phelan would say—"Out with you, you can't fight in this state."

This would put Tunney in the position of a recipient of a saddle without a horse.

There were also reports—which are more logical—that the committee will pick up the applications of Dempsey and Tunney for licenses, ponder over them and then tell the boys to come back in two weeks.

The longer the commission keeps Rickard from knowing what his top prices can be and the longer they can keep him in suspense about the fighters' license, the less the chances will be that Rickard can pull off the fight.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Two hundred and forty-five junior golfers gathered at the first tee of the Edgewater course here today for the opening qualifying round. The 32 with the best scores in medal play will go into the final rounds.

After the opening round there will be two 18-hole rounds of match play, one tomorrow, the second Thursday, Friday the 35-hole final round will be played.

Babe Ruth's 36th homer of the season aided the New York Yankees to beat the Tigers 9 to 3. Lazzeri likewise contributed a four-ply swat, with two on ahead of him.

Walter "Lefty" Miller, collegiate hurler of the Cleveland Indians, was freely hit but the tribe defeated Washington's Walter Johnson 7 to 5. "Nine hits were made off Johnson, while "Lefty" was nicked for 14 safeties.

Boston's Red Sox beamed the St. Louis Browns 7 to 5, getting 16 safeties. Rigney's three bangers in the eighth won for the Sox.

Cincinnati's Reds won the second and lost the first in a double header with the Phillies. The scores were Cincinnati 4-10; Philadelphia 7-5.

Riggs' Stephenson's error on Jackson's single to left gave the New York Giants a 4 to 3 win over the Cubs.

Brooklyn suffered its eighth straight defeat when Pittsburgh won 9 to 3. Petty lasted but six innings with the Pirates.

POE'S STORIES: The Black Cat

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

The mystery of the cat's appearance on the wall above the master's bed was solved by the probability that someone had seen the cat and thrown it through a window of the burning house to awaken the sleepers. Falling walls had pressed the image on the freshly-plastered wall of the bedchamber.

The master was satisfied with the explanation of Pluto's image, but remorse remained in the form of a mental picture of the cat.

One night as the master sat in a den of infamy he noticed a cat reposing on top of a hoghead of rum. He stroked it.

The new cat, which much resembled Pluto, followed its chosen master home. The master's wife, who had been fond of Pluto, and regretted the cruel deed that caused its death, at once made friends with the animal. Next morning, the master discovered that the new cat, like Pluto, had but one eye! (Continued)

YOUR SMILE WILL TELL YOUR SECRET

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

One time I met a novelist who had had an hour's audience with Queen Mary of England. Naturally I asked, "What is she like?"

"Much maligned in photograph and biography," was the reply. "She is one of the rarest and realest of people. Her smile alone sets her apart. She has a fine mouth and a kind, natural smile!"

We judge people invariably by their expressions—particularly by their smiles. To smile in itself means nothing. It is the way we smile. A smile may be the cruelest thing on earth. Recently a line caught my eye. "The hate that lies under laughter!" The devil, you know, always smiles.

Most of us are not like the Virginian, who remarked to the man who had cursed him, "When you say that, smile!" We would rather take the pill without the sugar coating.

Nothing is so blasting as the smile of insincerity. A superficial culture is responsible for this. "Pack up your feelings in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile!" says Mrs. Grundy. "No matter how you feel, smother your emotions and smile."

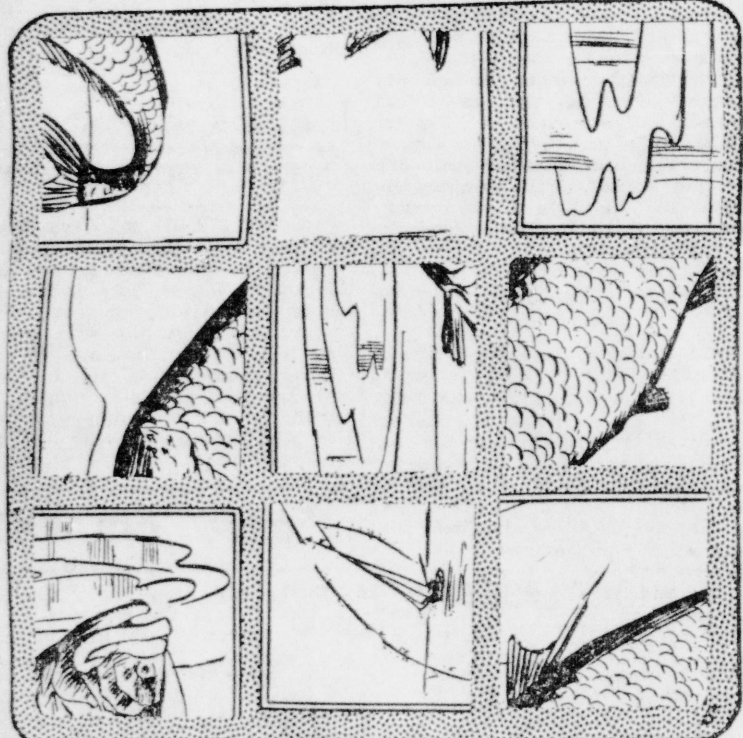

Well, probably it is better to smile the wrong way than not to smile at all, for, as a popular song told us not so long ago, there are about a hundred varieties—smiles that make us happy and smiles that make us sad. But the sneering smile, sour smile, cutting smile, and four smiles certainly could be reduced to a minimum if we would take ourselves in hand for a bit of self-analysis.

Be sure that if you are jealous or angry or disgusted or bored, your smile will find you out. Learn to like people and get rid of unpleasant character traits. When you think you are ready to be graduated, go to a little child for your final examination.

THIS AUSTRALIAN ANT-EATER HAS NO TEETH

By AUSTIN H. CLARK
Curator, U. S. National Museum

Eggs we usually associate with lizards, snakes and similar creatures; but according to Arthur J. Poole of the U. S. National Museum, a branch of the Smithsonian Institution, the curious little mammal shown in this picture is also an egg layer.

It is called the Australian spiny ant-eater, and is found only in Australia and Tasmania, with closely related kinds in Papua or New Guinea.

It is about a foot in length and is covered with short, thick quills, some of which are more than a quarter of an inch in diameter, but only from about half an inch to three inches in length.

No Teeth
It has no teeth. It lives almost entirely on ants and white-ants, or termites, which are small enough to be swallowed without being chewed.

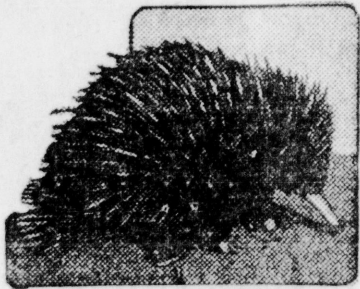

To get its food it tears down or digs into ant mounds with its long and very strong claws, and then gathers up its victims with its long and sticky tongue.

It sometimes buries itself in the ground leaving just a portion of its quills above the surface. It can burrow into the ground with remarkable speed.

When surprised or interfered with, it usually just rolls itself into a spiny ball with the head and legs safely tucked in beneath.

What about its eggs? These have a tough and leathery covering and are carried in a pouch or skin until they hatch, after which the young, like the young of cattle, dogs, cats, and all the other mammals, get their nourishment by suckling.

Young One in Pouch
Recently the pouch of one of

these animals was examined and was found to contain a young one, probably two or three days old, measuring one and five-sixteenths inches in length. The empty egg shell was also in the pouch.

There are other kinds of ant-eaters in Australia not at all related to this one, but to the kangaroos; and others in South America and elsewhere not at all related to either of these kinds.

Also there are many different creatures, wholly unrelated, with spines or quills on the back, like porcupines, hedge-hogs, spiny rats, etc.

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—Glaciers on the slopes of Mt. Elbrus in the Caucasus have receded more than 300 yards from where their edges were 15 years ago. An investigation is planned by the geophysical Laboratory of Leningrad to determine the effect of this shrinkage on the climate.

THE EXAMPLE

With brazen lips he told his lies

In petty rage he swore,

He little thought that youthful eyes

See daily more and more.

But little Tom, he loved so well

Disturbed him by the lies he'd tell.

He sent his child to Sunday school,

"Tis right to go," said he,

"A boy should learn the Golden

Rule.

If happy he would be."

But Tom observed, though he was sent,

To church his father never went.

Tom oft was told he mustn't say

The things his father said;

He heard good counsel day by day

But in his little head

There ran the thoughts the things

Were just the things his parents did.

Now hear the father's doleful

sigh:

"Our boy is such a care!

The lad deliberately lies!

His mother's in despair.

So many faults has little Tom!

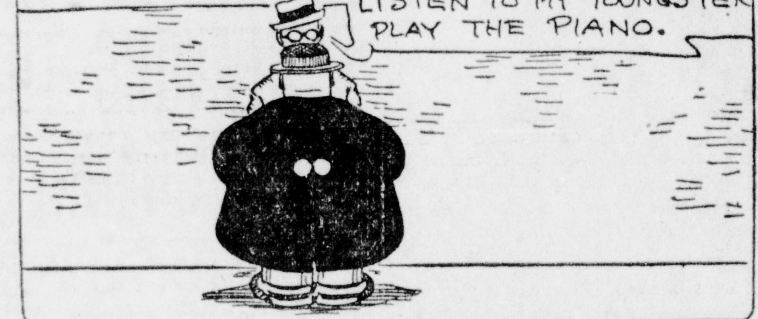

We wonder where he gets them

from."

Symptoms—A wrinkled and sagged condition under the chin revealing too much of the mechanical structure of the neck.

Diagnosis—The tissues are undernourished and require stimulation and rejuvenation. Such a condition is natural as one advances in years, and is an indication of age, so it should be postponed in life as late as possible.

Treatment—Station both your thumbs at the corner of your lower jaw. With your fingertips moving from the center of your chin, gently follow the creases, raising and molding the flesh with gentle strokes. Before you start, dip your finger tips in a nourishing skin food or massage cream and work in all your skin will absorb. Do this night and morning. The wrinkles will do a fade-out.

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A pilgrimage to the Theodore Roosevelt house is on the itinerary of most tourists.

While taking this trip to a national shrine, a few minutes walk will take the visitor about the Gramercy Park, which is one block square, is Manhattan's most exclusive park. It is fenced in and keys to the gate are held only by those who live around it. The number of keys is limited to 200.

Many years ago one Samuel Ruger gave the park to the neighborhood under the strict proviso that it may not be in any way disturbed.

To begin this easy little jaunt, take a Fifth avenue bus at any part of the city. . . . No. 28 East 20th street is the rebuilt Roosevelt house. . . . It is kept up by a memorial association, and considerable reconstruction has been necessary. . . . A fee of 25 cents is charged except on Saturdays and Sundays.

The interior is practically intact and to the trophies and furnishings of the "mighty hunter" have been added some of the specimens brought back by his sons. . . . It was an old place, occupied by several generations of Roosevelts. . . . Kermit and Teddy Jr. now live well uptown, off the Avenue.

Just a couple of blocks in the direction of downtown and you are in the Gramercy Park belt. . . . Originally the 20 acre farm of James Duane, one time mayor of New York. . . . Later one of the most exclusive districts. . . . Now occupied largely by artists of all sorts, from drama to music. . . . At No.

16 is the historic Player's Club, founded by Edwin Booth. . . . While still a theatrical club, its boundaries have expanded to include painters, writers, lawyers and doctors. . . . A couple of doors away, the National Arts Club, leading organization of American artists. . . . At No. 15 once lived Samuel Tilden. . . . At Lexington Avenue once lived Robert Ingersoll. . . . The house is long since gone, giving away to an apartment building. . . . Peter Cooper lived at No. 9 Lexington. . . . A statue of Booth is just opposite the little park.

The "boss" of Gramercy Park is James J. Hannon, the gardener. . . . For 25 years he has nursed the flowers, trees and shrubs. . . . He knows all about everybody and everything and gives particular attention to the children who are frequently left in his care as he works about. . . .

His rules for the youngsters are strict. . . . If they misbehave they must sit on a bench for a stated period of time. . . . Large boys who misbehave are sentenced to walk around the park a dozen times. . . . The parents of the youngsters of today were among his charges of yesterday. . . .

Irving Place parallels the park. . . . So named for the Irving Place theater, once the German theater where the great Conrad played and on a corner of East 17th Street the old home of Washington Irving. . . . At 19th street, the home of Ida Tarbell, the writer.

Once Upon a Time JOHN D. RODE AROUND THE LINKS ON A BICYCLE

By TOM SIMS

Here we have a photograph which might have been snapped yesterday, instead of nearly 20 years ago.

It's John D. Rockefeller, all right. That's easily seen. He hasn't changed so much.

But—you'd never guess what he is doing in the photograph.

No, the young fellow with him isn't a bicycle salesman, demonstrating the 1908 two-pedal speedster that doesn't need gasoline.

Nor is John D. riding down to the post office to see if the mail man left him a letter.

And he isn't training to be a six-day bicycle racer.

Believe it or not, when the above photo was taken John D. was playing golf.

He hit the ball, then hopped on his bicycle and rode to it. Or rather his valet pushed him to it, as John D. didn't believe in working the pedals very vigorously.

Looks as if John D., of all persons, should have been able to afford a motorcycle. He could get his gas free, or at cost.

But he played his golf on a bicycle.

And they say he made a very good score.

I am indebted to Louis Van Oeyen, NEA photographer, for this picture. Even in those days John D. was "camera shy" and Mr. Van Oeyen, then a struggling photographer in his teens, had to disguise himself as a bunker to get it.

SIT DOWN, SIR EDWARD

LONDON, Aug. 10.—When Sir Edward Elgar, the noted British composer, recently had an inspiration as he was riding atop a London bus, he began humming the tune, but was interrupted by an old lady who offered him her seat, saying: "You feel ill, don't you?"

As I am nursing a three-months-old baby, I found it necessary to eat between meals. I am finding this to be extremely satisfying. I seem to have added vitality and energy to my life. I am disappointed and since drinking A-Dof-Lus, I am positive it has benefited her too. My physician has advised me to continue with the baby visiting me to give the baby's brother, suggest that I continue using A-Dof-Lus.

Yours truly,

GERMANY PAYS MORE FOR RUM THAN FOR DEBTS

FORMER KAISER WANTS TO KEEP LAND IN AFRICA

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Germany is spending 5,500,000,000 gold marks—$870,000,000—every year on drink.

That is three times the Dawes annuity it is paying now, and is about one and three-quarters times the normal Dawes annuity Germany will pay after the "Dawes breathing spell" is over.

And the drink bill is going up rapidly every year.

To drink or not to drink is therefore a question about which the fight is growing ever hotter in Germany.

Defeated in parliament on the direct issue of local option, the drunks are coming back with a drastic bill to curtail drinking in a roundabout way.

Rigid Restrictions

The bill, if passed, would make Germany partly dry by placing saloons under rigid restrictions and placing arbitrary and final authority over them in the local governments. Sale of alcohol would be forbidden on Sundays, holidays and pay days, and licenses can be revoked if the local government believes that the saloon or restaurant promotes "rascally or intemperance." And the guests are made jointly responsible for violations by the proprietor.

A fight is expected over this bill. The 45th annual convention of German physicians, however, has just rejected prohibition on the ground that like all measure of force passed during the war and inflation it serves more to demoralize than to elevate the people.

The physicians pointed to America from which "came conflicting reports, many of which do not tend to recommend prohibition as an example for Germany."

But the physicians also strongly recommended temperance and urged far-reaching educational measures to fight the growing alcoholism, sport they urged, is the best antidote against alcoholism.

They viewed with alarm the growing consumption of alcohol which had dropped from 2.6 liters per head before the war to .2 liters in 1918, but has risen again to .8 liters per head.

Alcohol, they said, is far more dangerous to the German people now than before the war, because the German race has been permanently weakened through the "hunger blockade" of the war.

The physicians found the methods of Sweden, where alcohol is a state monopoly, and encourages advertisements and encouragements to drink are prohibited, as "worthy of the most careful attention" in preference to the outright prohibition of America.

Our Neighbors

SAN BERNARDINO.—In an effort to eliminate much of the danger of the sharp curves of the National Old Trails highway leading to Summit, the state highway commission has placed a party of engineers at work to relocate two miles of the road for two miles this side of Summit. It was announced by E. Q. Sullivan, division engineer of the highway commission. Mr. Sullivan said workmen will cut across points on the sharpest curves, increasing the radius of 20 or 30 of the worst curves on the road, making travel over this particular road considerably safer than at the present time.

POMONA.—Heads of the various citrus co-operative houses of Pomona valley, who have inspected the crop of navel oranges which will be ready soon after the first of the year, state that all indications point to an excellent crop which in some localities will surpass that of the season just closed. Navel around Claremont will be from 25 to 30 per cent better this year than last, according to N. G. Harris, manager of the Foothill Citrus union. In other sections, the crop is described as normal. Twelve cars were shipped from the San Dimas exchange last week and nine are scheduled for this week. From the La Verne houses eight cars of valencias were sent out. But five cars of lemons were shipped.

SAN BERNARDINO.—Construction of the Kendall memorial highway across Little Bear valley, by which transcontinental motor traffic will be diverted from Verdmont directly through San Bernardino, is under way. A road crew, using the county's new power shovel is excavating for the highway. The road will be a continuation of North E street and will cross the mountain on a maximum grade of six per cent, a winding road 30 feet in width.

EL CENTRO.—More than 30,000 carloads of perishable produce including almost every known vegetable and citrus fruit were shipped from Imperial valley to coast and eastern markets in the last year. It was shown in the annual report of B. A. Harrigan, county horticultural commissioner, just made public. Among the most important carload shipments from the standpoint of volume are the following: 11,174 cars of lettuce, 12,305 cars of cantaloupes, 4,489 cars of watermelons, 90 cars of asparagus, 706 cars of mixed melons, 457 cars of grapes, 290 cars of tomatoes, 135 cars of grapefruit, 47 cars of chile, 10 cars of bell peppers, 1014 cars of honey dew melons, 26 cars of casaba melons, 5 cars of pomegranates, 107 cars of spinach.

LA VERNE.—After debating the slot-machine menace for the last several months the city has passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of the machines, which are asserted to deliver an inferior quality of mints or chewing gum in addition to a certain "chance" of giving the players something for nothing in the way of additional merchandise chips.

JOHANNESBURG, Aug. 10.—With the fears of the house of Hohenzollern concerning the loss of its royal estates in Germany recently allayed, it is understood here that shortly the ex-king will be heard in the high court at Windhuk, Southwest Africa, affecting property of his family in that mandated territory.

The ex-king's petition is for: (a) A declaration to the effect that the provisions of the treaty of Versailles do not apply to the family trust of the Hohenzollern house as represented by him. (b) An interdict against the administrator of the territory restraining him from dealing with the family's property there; and (c) An order to the registrar of deeds to restore the name of the royal family trust in the deeds office as the owner of the property in question.

Holds Power of Attorney

Alfred L. Cohn, a Johannesburg solicitor, who holds a power of attorney, signed by the royal exile of Doorn two years ago, lodged the petition in the court. Prince of the World war the ex-king was advised to invest funds belonging to the Hohenzollern family trust, of which he was administrator, in farms in Southwest Africa, not altogether as a means of earning profits, but rather to encourage Germans to settle in the colony. The farms so acquired were registered in the name of the family trust.

Under the provisions of the treaty of Versailles it is provided that the property of the ex-king, and of the other German royal princes, so far as it was estimated in territories ceded direct or by mandate shall be confiscated without the granting of any compensation whatever. In the first clauses of the treaty relating to France the persons who shall thus lose their property are styled "the ex-king and other sovereign princes." In the later clauses of the treaty, referring to other powers, the words used are "ex-king and the other royal personages."

What Are Royal Personages?

The issue of the proceedings entered for hearing in the high court at Windhuk will be in the opinion of Cohn, largely turn upon what is meant by the words "royal personages."

A curious difference exists between two powers of attorney signed by the ex-king in favor of Cohn. One drawn up in German carries the simple signature "Wilhelm." The second, drawn up in English, is signed "William I. R."
